Trunks super power

Trunks' Furious Burst of Super Power! Trunks' Angry Super Power Explosion!! This episode first aired in Japan on October 16, Its original American airdate was May 5, Future Trunks , having obtained a new power due to succumbing to his intense rage, prepares to do battle with Goku Black. Vegeta witnesses as Future Zamasu steps in and, along with Goku Black, gang up on Future Trunks, but the Saiyan is able to fight both of them off. Future Trunks knocks Goku Black and blasts him with a huge attack, but Goku Black emerges from the smoke barely harmed, calling Future Trunks "a good dessert". Goku Black proceeds to jump Vegeta with Future Zamasu, defeating the Saiyan prince and knocking him to the ground, further angering Future Trunks. The duo are determined to execute their Zero-Mortal Plan, but are knocked down by a powered-up Future Trunks, who then fires a Masenko at them. The pair are knocked into a building, and Future Trunks attacks them with a barrage of ki blasts. As he is doing this, he tells Vegeta to take Bulma and the beaten Goku and go back to the present timeline in the Time Machine , in order to come up with a plan to win, saying he will hold them off by himself. Vegeta disagrees to this, but Goku weakly mutters that it's the only way to save the future. Goku Black notices the time machine flying off, and tries to blast it, but Future Trunks counters the blast with one of his own. Upon witnessing the Saiyans and Bulma retreat, Goku Black dismisses it, saying they will return in due time, and the corrupt pair direct their attention to Future Trunks. In the present timeline, Trunks , Pilaf , Shu , Mai , Beerus and Whis watch as the time machine lands in front of them, with Trunks surprised that Future Trunks isn't with everyone else. The two gods assume that the Alternate Timeline is now safe due to the destruction of the present Zamasu , but an angry Bulma confronts them and tells them that the alternate timeline did not change at all, despite Beerus' assurance that a god destroying another god would affect the time stream. Beerus is nonchalant at discovering he was wrong, saying that he had a feeling nothing would change due to Future Trunks' words. Bulma is about to hit Beerus but is stopped by Vegeta, tossing the Pilaf Gang the mortally wounded Goku. Vegeta is determined to think of a plan and quickly return to the future, not wanting to waste the time given to them by Future Trunks. As Goku is put into a healing pod, Vegeta explains to the gods the real truth behind Goku Black's identity. With his curiosity satisfied, Beerus tells Whis to take him back home, saying that he disposed of the present Zamasu so he has no place interfering with another timeline's Zamasu, entrusting the rest to everyone else. Whis wishes them good luck as the two gods leave while Bulma yells at them, calling them cowards. Vegeta walks off, telling everyone to leave him alone as he tries to think of a plan. At Goku's house , Goten is sleeping but he woken up by Trunks knocking on his window. At the police station, Krillin is confronted by Chi-Chi and Gohan , with the former constantly asking Krillin if he knew where Goku was, but Krillin replied that he did not, thinking to himself if he is still dealing with Goku Black. Chi-Chi says that she was worried about Goku, and cooked a lot of food for him to eat, which is in a giant pack carried by Gohan. Krillin explains that as a police officer, if he knew anything he would share it to Chi-Chi, and rushes off to go on patrol. Gohan tries to calm Chi-Chi down as they both notice Goten and Trunks flying. At Capsule Corporation , Vegeta is walking and thinking as he overhears Bulma talking with Goten and Trunks, who is determined to go to the alternate timeline and help his future counterpart. Bulma tells him he would not be of help if he did go, and to leave it to Goku. Vegeta is about to silence Bulma as Chi-Chi calls for her Gohan flying and carrying her. Bulma plays innocent and says he has no idea, and Chi-Chi asks her where Goten and Trunks are, as she had seen them flying earlier, worrying about them being delinquents sneaking out so late at night. Shu appears and gives Bulma a status update about the time machine, and she explains to a confused Chi-Chi that the time machine is her newest product. Goten and Trunks crawl away but they are stopped by Vegeta, and Chi-Chi spots them, beginning to scold Goten. Krillin and Piccolo arrive, asking if they defeated Goku Black yet. Chi-Chi asks Bulma what's going on, when Goku appears, with his injuries healed but his stomach empty. Inside Capsule Corp. Bulma explains to everyone about Future Trunks' world being in danger, and a fake Goku rampaging, and Gohan is surprised to hear this as he had no idea Future Trunks was going through it despite his pleasant disposition when he had dinner with his family. Goku says he won't forgive Zamasu for stealing his body and killing Chi-Chi and Goten, but as Chi-Chi panics and checks if Goten is ok, Goku explains it was in another timeline. Chi-Chi asks if Goku beat him, and Goku replies that they were beaten and had to escape to the past twice, and Chi-Chi questions Goku's fatherly duties for not beating the one responsible for killing his wife and son. Piccolo did not realize Goku Black was as strong as he is, having observed his initial fight with Goku, but Vegeta explains that due to Goku Black's Super Saiyan powers and his ability to grow stronger after each fight, along with Future Zamasu's immortality , they are a perfect pair and cannot be beaten in a proper fight. Bulma tells everyone that Future Trunks is currently fighting both of them on his own, and Goku and Vegeta are stumped and cannot think of a plan. Piccolo suggests using the Evil Containment

Wave , explaining to Vegeta that Master Roshi attempted to use it to seal away King Piccolo a long time ago. Piccolo suggests the idea of Goku and Vegeta fighting them back and looking for an opening to seal them, saying that they cannot come back out as long as the seal isn't broken. Vegeta asks Bulma how long until the time machine is ready, and she replies less than half a day. Piccolo asks if Vegeta plans to go in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber , and Vegeta says that they can seal them after Vegeta pays them back for everything they have done. Bulma says everyone else can watch as Piccolo does it. Goku practices the technique on Turtle , attempting to seal him in a container, and manages to do so after a few failures. Master Roshi says he will create a talisman for Goku to use to complete the seal, in exchange for Goku taking him to a place with young girls. Meanwhile, in Universe 10 , Beerus and Whis confront Gowasu about the alternate timeline not changing, with Beerus in a bad mood that everyone was on his case about being wrong. Beerus says he can easily destroy Zamasu if he went to the future, but refuses to do so as a God of Destruction has no business crossing the time stream. Gowasu, taking responsibility as he specifically chose Zamasu to be his apprentice, agrees to do something on the matter. This wiki. This wiki All wikis. Sign In Don't have an account? Start a Wiki. Categories :. RDF feed. English title. I Will Defend the World! Series name. Universal Conquest Wiki. FandomShop Newsletter GalaxyQuest. Brief Future Yajirobe Turtle. Add a photo to this gallery. Goten ". Trunks has either blue [5] [6] or lavender hair color and his mother 's blue eyes. He has his father's eye shape, facial features and tanned skin and his hair turns blond and eyes turn pupil-less green when he becomes a Super Saiyan. For the majority of the Buu Saga, Present Trunks wears a dark green gi , an orange belt, orange wristbands and the same golden boots that Future Trunks wears, he also wears this in the movie, Bio-Broly. In the events of Broly - Second Coming, Trunks wears a light green long sleeve hoodie with a black short sleeve undershirt with a red collar, indigo blue denim shorts and his golden boots from his primary outfit. He later wears Maloja 's necklace. At the end of Dragon Ball Z , Trunks now wears a black long-sleeved shirt, a golden vest, dark gray pants and the same golden boots that he wore as a child. Later he wears a black sleeveless muscle shirt with a CAPSULE logo at the center of his shirt, gray pants and his boots from his childhood. In Dragon Ball Super , Trunks wears a yellow jacket with a white undershirt, jeans, yellow boots, and maroon wristbands. During Bulma's birthday party, he wears a Hawaiian shirt with shorts and sunglasses. In Dragon Ball GT , Trunks wears a black long-sleeved shirt with a blue bandana, brown leather gloves, a light tan blazer, white baggy short slacks, and now he wear brown boots. During the events of Baby Saga, where Baby possessed him until the events of the Shadow Dragon Saga, he is not seen wearing his light tan blazer. His hair is now purple instead of lavender. As a child during the Majin Buu arc , Trunks is shown to be quite cocky and stingy just like his father, as well as mischievous, most likely due to the fact that this Trunks grew up with his father Vegeta and enjoyed the luxuries of peace, while Future Trunks grew up without Future Vegeta and in an apocalyptic world, causing him to be much more serious and cautious. Trunks has a combination of both of his parents' personalities: cocky and proud like his father and spoiled and selfish like his mother. He refuses to respect someone he does not like, another trait he shares with his father. This is shown when he disrespects Goku when they first meet, as Trunks believes he is not as strong as his father and again when he wondered why he wasn't present when his father was killed. He is shown to be loving towards his parents and grandparents and will not think twice about defending his family. Trunks is very loyal towards his father and thinks highly of him despite his flaws, though this is in part due to Trunks knowing nothing about Vegeta's past as a former enemy, and being ignorant of Vegeta's personal conflict over whether his family or superiority was more important. For example, when Trunks learned of Vegeta's death in the Majin Buu Saga , Trunks blamed Goku for being unconscious at the time, even though Piccolo tried to reveal it was Vegeta responsible for that and allowing Majin Buu's revival before Goku stopped him from doing so. Also, Trunks believed his father to be a hero and vowed to surpass him as a warrior, even though most of the Z Fighters opted to keep Vegeta's past as a villain a secret to protect Trunks from the burden of the truth. This, however, doesn't mean Trunks is not fearful of his father, as Trunks was taught by Vegeta to be obedient and well-mannered, and Trunks admits he is afraid of Vegeta's discipline when he misbehaves. Trunks tends to usually take control over the younger Goten , stating to him numerous times how he is both older and stronger during childhood. He has a competitive streak and passion for fighting, another trait he inherited from his father, though less aggressive than Vegeta's. He is also proud of his Saiyan heritage and believes that the Saiyans are the mightiest warrior race ever known. Trunks also shares his mother's love for technology, but he shows little to no interest in inheriting the family business, preferring to train rather than work. However, he does so out of respect for his mother and grandfather. In at least the movies, he was also shown to be somewhat crass regarding his taunts as he proceeded to moon Broly and his clone

Bio-Broly, and in the latter case, also flip the bird at him. In his later years, Trunks adopts a personality similar to his future counterpart's. During and in between his battles at the World Martial Arts Tournament , he acts just like his father does, calm when he fights and insulting his opponents. However, he does not act like this during his battle with Goten, either because he is his best friend or due to the possibility he could lose. Despite his occasional childish antics, Trunks is highly intelligent for his age. Due to his maternal side of the family being scientists, he also possesses a significantly huge amount of knowledge about biological and science-related knowledge from a young age, as demonstrated in Dragon Ball Z: Bio-Broly , when he correctly identifies what the Culture Tank equipment is used for at age eight, as well as correctly defining two-thirds of what biotechnology is the only thing he was not able to answer was what genetic engineering is. Along with inheriting the scientific mind of his mother and maternal grandfather, Trunks is also shown to possess a tactical mind like his father and paternal grandfather, as demonstrated by his and Giru's deception of Dr. Myuu and his forces on planet M-2 during the Baby Saga. Soon afterward, when his Future self was sulking, he approached him and berated him for moping around after one loss, and thinking that he's a coward. When his younger sister, Bulla, was born, Trunks was a bit disappointed because he wanted to have a brother to train with, but he had a change of heart when he first held her and became protective of her. Trunks is shown to have an interest in girls as he develops a crush on Mai as well as his attraction to her Future counterpart. He is also shown to get jealous when she becomes infatuated ironically with his Future counterpart. However, he later has the same reaction upon encountering Future Mai, though he and Mai eventually turn their attention back to each other. In Dragon Ball Fusions, he ironically finds Towa attractive upon meeting her, though he was not the only one, as Goten similarly found Towa beautiful. However, he is unaware of her villainous nature and antagonistic relationship with his future counterpart, Trunks: Xeno. Thus he is surprised by her later betrayal. Pan suspects that his interest in Towa is mainly perverted, and even angrily assumes his future counterpart did something untoward or that Trunks was the one in the wrong that lead Towa to want revenge, even asking Trunks what he did, despite Trunks not knowing, as he had never encountered Towa before because Towa's encounters with his future self had occurred supposedly in the future; both were unaware that it involved his future time patroller counterpart and not his older self. He was an illegitimate child due to that he was conceived as a result of a brief affair between his parents. In his infancy, he was well-loved and doted on by his mother, but it appeared as if his father had little to no parental emotions towards the boy due to Vegeta never wanting to have children and viewing hybrids as a disgrace. However, after the end of the Cell Games , the relationship between his parents improved and they got married, and they began raising Trunks as a family. During Trunks' childhood, he was lavished with attention by his mother and her family, but Vegeta proved to be more strict regarding Trunks' training and behavior. Trunks came to idolize his father, and they developed a good relationship, despite Vegeta's frequent absences from the family and unwillingness to do certain family activities. Initially, Vegeta is uninterested in his son, and Trunks is cared for by Bulma and her family. Although he acknowledged the boy as his child, Vegeta rarely saw Trunks while he and the rest of the Z Fighters prepared for the battle against the androids and eventual conflict with Cell, to the point Trunks would cry whenever Vegeta got close to him. Gohan and Krillin quickly assume Yamcha is the father but are shocked when Goku corrects them by saying Vegeta is the father, Bulma asks how Goku knew this because she wanted to surprise everyone, and Goku lies he was guessing because Trunks looks just like Vegeta. As the Z Fighters face off against Android 19 and 20 who is actually Dr. Gero , Bulma decides to head to the battlefield to see the Androids and let Vegeta see Trunks, and she forces Yajirobe to accompany her. He is terrified to get too close to the battle and threatens to throw Trunks if she do any stop, but she threatens to tell Vegeta he is being mean to Trunks. During the fight with Dr. Gero, Trunks and his mother are briefly put in danger when Android 20 destroys the vehicle they were traveling in. However, they are saved by Future Trunks, who intervened when Vegeta failed due to his indifference towards Bulma and their son. Piccolo reveals Future Trunks' identity as his son's future counterpart to Vegeta when he referred to Future Trunks by name and later revealed Future Trunks' identity to Bulma, who was relieved to know that Trunks wouldn't grow up to look like his father. Gohan then takes Trunks and Bulma back to Capsule Corp. A couple of days later, Trunks goes with his mother to deliver the detonation device to Krillin and then heads to The Lookout while Vegeta and Future Trunks battle Cell. While waiting for Cell's broadcast for the Cell Games at home, Trunks playfully pulls his counterpart's hair, which everyone saves for Future Trunks finds humorous. After Cell was defeated, Trunks is seen learning how to walk, and Vegeta starts to take a more active role in raising Trunks, having come to accept him as his son after Cell killed Future Trunks during the Cell Games, and this act left Vegeta enraged and guilt-ridden. Main article: Great Saiyaman

Saga. Seven years following Cell's defeat, Trunks takes a much larger role. Trunks is eight years old and fantastically strong for his age. He was trained by Vegeta since he learned how to walk. As a result, he was able to transform into a Super Saiyan at age 8, as well as become acclimated to the state without Vegeta's knowledge. This is first shown on-screen while he is training in a Gravity Room with Vegeta, when he cannot handle the gravity in his normal state. He then transforms out of nowhere and leaps around naturally in gravity that at first was supposedly overwhelming him. This comes as a massive shock to Vegeta considering his young age but makes him proud to see his son becoming stronger. Vegeta asks Trunks to attack him to test Trunks' strength, but when Trunks hesitates, Vegeta promises to take him to the amusement park if he landed one punch on him. Trunks succeeds but is punched down by accident and reveals he is a little stronger than Goten for being older. Main article: World Tournament Saga. On the day of the 25th World Martial Arts Tournament , Trunks is dismayed to be sent to the Junior Division and easily makes it all the way to the grand finals and becomes the new junior champion by defeating his best friend Goten , the second son of Goku and Chi-Chi by becoming a Super Saiyan, firing an energy blast which knocked Goten out of the ring, and using his left arm; all three of which Trunks had agreed not to do, though Goten had cheated too and became a Super Saiyan earlier in the fight. When Trunks is set up against Mr. Satan , Satan asks him to only lightly tap in on the face, knowing how much power Trunks has. However, even Trunks' light tap is enough to launch Mr. Satan out of the ring, allowing Trunks to win the match. However, the crowd thinks Mr. Satan did it deliberately to be nice to Trunks. He convinces Goten to secretly compete in the adult division disguised as Mighty Mask , but Android 18 realizes this and blows their cover with a Destructo Disc while in the match, disqualifying them and the boys flee to avoid getting in trouble. Shortly after Trunks learned about Majin Buu from Videl , he and Goten eagerly fly to the battlefield and find Piccolo and Krillin turned into as stone by Dabura. Trunks accidentally breaks Piccolo. He is then shocked to see Piccolo is alive moments before Vegeta shows up to fight Majin Buu. Trunks cheers for his father but quickly realizes Vegeta cannot win, and he tries to help his father battle the monster. As Majin Buu torments Vegeta, Trunks rushes in and saves him. Vegeta orders Trunks to escape for his own safety but Trunks wants to stay and help his father fight Majin Buu and is hugged for the first time by his father, but he and Goten are knocked out by Vegeta who blew himself up to try to destroy Majin Buu, albeit failing. The boys are taken to the Lookout to take shelter from Majin Buu. When they wake up, the boys learn that Vegeta and Gohan are dead, which makes them cry as Trunks becomes upset of his father's death, and Trunks angrily asks Goku why he did not save his father. Babidi makes an announcement to the world that if Goten, Trunks and Piccolo do not come out of hiding they are going to destroy more cities. The boys witness Majin Buu murder hundreds of innocent people and are determined to defeat the monster. Then Babidi announces he has learned Trunks lives in West City and intends to destroy it next, making him fear for his grandparents who are still there. However, Goku's time on Earth is ended and he leaves Piccolo to teach the boys the rest of the Fusion Dance. Piccolo and Krillin take over teaching the Fusion Dance to the boys. When it is time for the fusion, Trunks and Goten's first attempt fails due to Trunks making a mistake with his fingers. Their second attempt also fails when their index fingers don't touch, much to Piccolo's frustration at the failed attempts. The third attempt successfully creates Gotenks , who then rushes to fight Majin Buu but is quickly beaten. After a little training, they fuse again but due to Gotenks wasting time by playing around, they defuse before fighting Majin Buu. Piccolo warns them Super Buu will enter the room in a minute, which gives them six hours in the room. Later, Super Buu and Piccolo enter, and just before the two boys get to fuse, Super Buu punches Trunks who angrily tells him to wait. He and Goten soon fuse into Gotenks, but are not strong enough to beat him. When Gotenks pretended to be tired and low on energy, Piccolo destroys the entrance to the chamber, but Super Buu escapes and eats the remaining Z-Fighters and support on the Lookout except Dende who was thrown off by Mr. Gotenks finally escapes, thanks to his Super Saiyan 3 transformation and, after learning Super Buu turned everyone into chocolate and ate them, Gotenks angrily vows to kill him. Gotenks fights Super Buu again, almost defeating him until they defuse right at the killing blow. When Super Buu escapes, the crew find Dende, picking up Mr. Satan and his dog along the way. When Super Buu asks for a rematch against Gotenks, they fuse, but Super Buu tricks them and absorbs them to become stronger. Trunks is later revived by the Namekian Dragon Balls , and lends energy to Goku's Super Spirit Bomb when Vegeta requests energy to all the Earthlings and its creatures. He and Goten also get a group of people to lend a hand as well. Buu, Dende, and Mr. He is thrilled to see his father again and runs to him with his mother, rejoicing in open arms. The peace is disrupted when Trunks spots Buu near Mr. Satan, not knowing Buu has turned to the good side. In anger, Trunks prepares an energy attack to fire, but Goku and Vegeta manage to explain the situation, and the group discusses their adventure. Trunks is later seen at a party at his home in celebration of their victory. They start by getting jewelry, but it is too much for Goten. Almost giving up, Trunks tells Goten what Bulma told him about cosmetics that Videl needs cosmetics to keep her skin smooth and wrinkle-free. They hear from an older man in a store complaining about the cosmetics' prices, bragging that his hot springs have water that can turn even the most wrinkled skin as smooth as silk, with both Trunks and Goten deeming it an excellent gift for Videl. After following the directions given to them by the old man, Trunks and Goten find the hot springs where the water is located, but after seeing many people already using it, they proceed to the nearest river and collect a jug's worth of water, until they are attacked by a giant snake. Dodging the snake's swift movements, Trunks and Goten protect the jug until Trunks finally defeats the snake and the two proceed to fly back to Gohan's house in order to drop off the present. The next day, Trunks goes to a resort area with his parents for a family vacation. He was delighted to have his first family vacation with both of his parents, as Vegeta had taken time off from training to fulfill his promise to Trunks from their training prior to the 25th World Martial Arts Tournament. Even though Vegeta takes off after being annoyed by the public, Trunks had a great time spending time with his parents, especially Vegeta. Trunks goes to his mother's birthday party and meets Goten there, and they both go off below the deck so Trunks can show Goten the Dragon Balls. He shows him how the container, where the Dragon Balls were, worked by showing him the flaws of Bulma's inventions. On their way back to the deck, they encounter Pilaf, Mai, and Shu on the side of Bulma's ship. Trunks and Goten rescued them and offered them food, which Pilaf declines. Trunks and Goten play games on during the party. Trunks and Goten started to play with water guns throughout the ship. While playing, Trunks shoots Beerus in the face by accident and gets him angry. Beerus decides to blow up the Earth after Majin Buu eats all the pudding, prompting the Z Fighters to fight him to stop him. Trunks and Goten fuse into Gotenks, but their attacks have no effect on Beerus, and is left defeated. Trunks stays in the sidelines as Vegeta fights Beerus in anger for hitting Bulma, but he is also defeated. When Goku finally arrives and has Shenron explain the process of creating a Super Saiyan God, Trunks lends his energy along with Vegeta, Gohan, Goten, and the unborn Pan to Goku, transforming him into a deity. Trunks watches the battle from a distance due to having lost the ability to fly due to giving up his energy and, although Goku is defeated, Beerus decides not to blow up Earth at the moment and leaves. He then touches his skin and face to make sure they are not tights and a mask with Goten accidentally taking off one of his wireless radios on his ears. They then play around with his ship, and Jaco encourages them to play, which leads to them accidentally closing the hatch and crashing it into the pond resulting in them being sent to their rooms as punishment. Later on, while the Z Fighters were fighting Frieza and his forces, Trunks and Goten were playing ball outside when they sensed Tagoma 's ki and decided to join in the fight. However, when Goku and Vegeta arrive, Goku orders Trunks and Goten to go to The Lookout to tell Dende what happened, and additionally, the location is too dangerous for them. Trunks refuses until Vegeta gives him a disciplinary glare that prompts Trunks to oblige. He is killed when the planet explodes, but Whis uses his Temporal Do-Over technique to undo the damage, undoing Trunks' death in the process. After killing Frieza, Goku tells Trunks all about what happened while they were away at the Capsule Corporation. Trunks later said that he and Goten would take of Frieza next time he gets resurrected and will finish him off by slicing him in half. Everyone acts surprised because that's something that Future Trunks already did in the past but the present Trunks hasn't heard about it. He later attends the party thrown by Bulma with his friends and family. Main article: Universe 6 Saga. Trunks is present with his friends and family, cheering on the team of Universe 7 during the Tournament of Destroyers. Main article: Copy-Vegeta Saga Trunks attends the Universe 7 victory celebration with his friends and family, being told by Beerus to protect the fact that Monaka is weak as a secret from Goku. When Goku shows desperation to fight with Monaka, Goten suggests that Monaka could have the ability to "transform. While Goku was being distracted, Beerus dons the life-size Monaka costume created by Mr. Satan and fights with Goku. Eventually, the battle is over. The situation ends on a good note as Goku never realized that Monaka was an amateur and is even more motivated to train after fighting with him. While Goten and Trunks are flying towards Capsule Corp, they notice Monaka's delivery truck but finding out that Monaka is not present. Goten and Trunks then make their way inside the back of Monaka's truck, having fun with the items present in there. When they blow up a blow-up doll, the force causes the truck to bounce off the ground, closing the door and trapping them inside. Trunks prepares to blow the door open but does not want Monaka to get in trouble for having the truck damaged. They then wait for Monaka, who immediately climbs in his truck and flies off into space with the two boys still inside. On the way to Planet Potaufeu , Goten and Trunks are freezing in the truck due to being in outer space. Monaka then arrives to Potaufeu, and opens the back door, discovering Goten and Trunks frozen solid and manages to thaw them. Potage , the planet's only inhabitant, appears and greets Monaka, and the intergalactic criminal Gryll confronts the group with his henchmen. Goten and Trunks realize Potage is in trouble, and easily defeat the henchmen, forcing them to retreat. They later reappear, holding the key to the seal of the "Superhuman Water. Later, Goten and Trunks are being chased, while carrying Potage and Monaka by Gryll and his henchmen, who are now purple. Trunks is then knocked down by an attack and is attacked again, but he is saved by Vegeta and Jaco's timely arrival, while Vegeta deflects the attack. Trunks witnesses Vegeta easily defeating Gryll's henchmen, and being absorbed by the "Superhuman Water" and an exact copy of him is created. Trunks is about to be absorbed by Copy-Vegeta next, but Copy-Vegeta hesitates before attacking him. He is then saved by Jaco. Trunks later retreats while carrying Potage and a drained Vegeta, while Goten carries Monaka, and Jaco also retreats. In a secure spot, Potage explains the truth about the "Superhuman Water", which is actually a weapon named Commeson , and they learn that Copy-Vegeta must be defeated in order to save Vegeta's life. Copy-Vegeta later confronts the two boys, who then fuse into Gotenks and engage in battle with him. Even as a Super Saiyan 3, Gotenks cannot deal any damage to Copy-Vegeta, and is defeated by a few blows. Fallen, Goten and Trunks are about to be finished off by Copy-Vegeta, but they are saved by Goku's timely arrival. Trunks tries to inform Goku to defeat Copy-Vegeta quickly, as he is an impostor. Trunks watches as Goku and Copy-Vegeta fight an evenly-matched battle. As Vegeta begins to instinctively cheer for his copy to win, Trunks reminds his father of the circumstances. Both Goku and Copy-Vegeta then transform into a Super Saiyan Blue , and Trunks realizes that the fight could take too long, and asks Potage if there is another way to save Vegeta. Potage answers that if the core is crushed, the copy will become weaker. They notice that the core has left the spot where Copy-Gryll was knocked into. As the Commeson core tries to attack, Goten, Trunks, and Jaco blast it, which passes through it. They then run away from Commeson. Trunks tells Jaco, who is worried about a copy of him being made that he would quickly defeat his copy. Trunks begins to notice Vegeta's ki disappearing and rushes to his father's side. As Goku and Copy-Vegeta's battle causes a bright light and a shockwave, Commeson tries to attack Trunks from behind, but Vegeta stands in-between them as his body is disappearing. Monaka casually and nonchalantly steps on the core, which destroys it, and damages Copy-Vegeta, and Goku is able to finish him off. With Vegeta's life saved, Trunks happily hugs his father. The group then says goodbye to Potage as they teleport back to Earth, where Trunks is confronted by Bulma about sneaking onto a spacecraft. Main article: "Future" Trunks Saga. Trunks, along with Pilaf, Mai and Shu, are being taught mathematics by a private instructor at Capsule Corp. Pilaf in a complicated manner explains to Trunks a math equation he did not know how to solve. As they are eating lunch, Trunks sees Future Trunks' Time Machine land and inspects it, also noticing Future Trunks inside, beaten and unconscious. As Bulma lays Future Trunks in a bed, Trunks is confused on who he is, especially after Pilaf and the gang's assumptions on Future Trunks being his secret illegitimate brother and his parents being a part of a "scandal" as the two boys look very similar. When Bulma calls Goku and Vegeta and tells him about Future Trunks, Trunks is even more confused, as they are also referring to him as "Trunks", As Trunks asks who Future Trunks is, Bulma orders him to power up so Goku can lock onto his ki and teleport back to Earth. When Goku arrives back with Senzu Beans, Bulma feeds one to Future Trunks, and is surprised to see him suddenly wake up and attack Goku. Trunks is later shocked when he learns that the older Trunks he sees is himself from the future. Future Trunks and Trunks greet each other. Trunks is last seen checking out the Time Machine with the Pilaf Gang as he is told by his future counterpart they really first met when present Trunks was a baby, to his surprise as Bulma confirms it. He later watches Goku and Future Trunks spar, cheering his other self on and being amazed when the latter pushes Goku back. In the anime only, he witnesses the arrival of Goku Black and the latter's confrontation with Goku before he is sent back to the future though not before the villain destroys the time machine. He is shown to be somewhat jealous when Mai falls in love with Future Trunks. When the time machine is completely repaired, Trunks proudly exclaims that he helped. He then watches as Future Trunks, Vegeta and Goku travel to the future. Later on, Trunks is laying outside as he is surprised to see the time machine return, with the beaten Goku, Vegeta and Future Trunks falling out of it. He calls for Bulma as he is greatly worried for his father and his condition. After Whis , Beerus , Shin , and Goku head to Universe 10 to check on Gowasu 's current state, Trunks is seen confronting his future self asking him if he is sulking because he was defeated and despite that he is still calling himself Trunks. Future Trunks told him politely to leave him alone, Trunks begins to feel very disappointed of his future self and that because of his current state he is unable to protect Future Mai. He told him if he is frustrated and angry, he must defeat him in a battle with Trunks making the first move by punching his future self, he quickly orders Future Trunks to stand up as he is supposed to be a Saiyan. After a brief fight, Future Trunks finally realizes what his past self is trying to teach him: win no matter who the opponent is. He shakes hands with him and thanks him for bringing him back to his senses. Suddenly, Beerus and the group arrives and informs them of Zamasu's demise and that the future should be safe, however, Future Trunks still feels uneasy about the situation and decides to head to the future to check things out. Trunks angrily asks him that why he does not believe Beerus. His counterpart responds that he grew up from a different timeline. Future Trunks begins to explain how his life is different from his and that he never met his father as he was killed six months after his birth by Future Android 17 and Future Android 18 and that Future Goku also died due to a heart virus, and that the first time he came to past he gave Goku the heart medicine so it would save him. Trunks asks him why Goku remains deceased in his timeline, referring to a book he read about changing the past that causes changes in the future. Future Trunks told himself despite the world he came from and his world are the same, they become different worlds as the two of them are living a different life. Trunks feels convinced about his future self suspicions. He later bides farewell to his future self wishing him the best from the bottom of his heart. Later, the time machine reappears, Trunks sees that everyone except Future trunks are inside the time machine. Trunks and the Pilaf Gang assumed that the future is safe. To their utter shock, Bulma reveals that the future remained the same as it was with Zamasu and Black causing destruction of the cities and that Future Trunks acted as a shield so they could return to the past in order to find a plan to defeat their enemies. Upon witnessing Goku's critical injuries and his father's serious behavior, Trunks went to visit Goten who was asleep at the that time. After telling the situation to his best friend, Trunks and Goten decided to go the future in order to help his future self, but Bulma tells them that they would only serve no help, and only trust Goku to handle this situation. Upon learning about their enemies' increasing power and immortality and how they are hard to defeat in a head on battle, Piccolo suggested the use of the Evil Containment Wave to seal their enemies, which gives everyone hope as they found a way to save the future. Trunks later sees Infinite Zamasu appear in the sky laughing manically but soon witnesses his destruction by Future Zeno. After Zamasu disappears, the time machine appears and he greets his parents before becoming infatuated by Future Mai. He soon sees Goku bring back Future Zeno to the present timeline. Later at dinner, he hears Whis tell Future Trunks about the possibility of going to a new timeline. After Bulma protests this since it would mean dealing with Zamasu again, Trunks asks if things would keep going like this. His pleas are calmed after Whis explains that he will go to that timeline and warn Future Beerus before he disappears due to the Supreme Kai's death and have take care of Zamasu. Trunks then bids his counterpart farewell, telling him to come by and visit as his other self agrees. Main article: Universe Survival Saga. In the anime, Trunks is at his house, telling Goten his now pregnant mother is due to give birth any day and he is excited about becoming an older brother. Goten agrees to stay but Trunks says he can't go far because of the baby. They have a quick spar when Goku unsuccessfully asks Vegeta to participate in the Zeno Expo and Trunks punches Goten who looked away to greet Goku. While recruiting members for Universe 7, Shin suggested Trunks and Goten because they have potential. Still, Goku refuses because their rivalry would be an issue, and they tend to rush into battle straightforwardly. Shortly after, Trunks is told by Vegeta to finish getting the baby's room ready. Trunks orders Goten to put the bed in different spots until Goten complains it doesn't matter where it goes. Gohan comes into the room to tell Trunks the baby has been born, much to Trunks' surprise. Because Gohan forgot to ask if the baby is a boy or girl, Goten says having a brother would mean Trunks can train with him, and Trunks favors this more. However, Gohan says having a sister is fun too because she will be cute like Pan, but Trunks says he prefers training and therefore prefers a brother. When Trunks meets his sister Bulla , he is disappointed she is a girl and refuses to hold her at first but Bulma puts her in his arms. Trunks becomes softer as Bulla smiles at him, and he asks Vegeta if he wants to hold her. Vegeta asks the baby to be given to him because Trunks isn't holding her properly prompting Trunks to say Vegeta knows a lot about that. The next day, Trunks tries to change Bulla's diaper but ends up calling Vegeta for help. After Vegeta effortlessly changes the diaper, Trunks smiles and laughs with Bulla and remarks she feels better. An hour before the tournament is scheduled to begin, Trunks questions why Frieza's picture is on the team member board. Goku tells Bulma that Trunks and Goten don't know about the tournament, and Vegeta says them knowing will be a bother. Bulma lies to Trunks that everyone on the board is invited to a celebration for Bulla's birth, but when Trunks points out Frieza is evil, Vegeta lies that Frieza has redeemed. Goku then asks Trunks if he wants to guard Android 17 's island from poachers so 17 can attend. Trunks excitedly agrees and travels with Goten, Krillin, 18, and Marron to the island. In the manga, as he is heading to meet Team Universe 7 after having dropped Goten and Trunks at Monster Island, Android 17 realizes he forgot to tell them about the Cell Jrs. Simultaneously, the Cell Jr's. A seven on two battle then breaks out until one of the Cell Jr's. In the anime, Trunks reappears during the saga's final moments, revealing Goten and himself lived up to their end of the deal. They protected 17's island, only suffering minor injuries from their ordeal. Later he celebrates his baby sister's birth and then with Goten, presumably is trusted to watch 17's island again as he takes his family on a cruise. When Piccolo contacts Dende to ask for energy in order to aid Goku, the two young boys overhear the conversation and offer up their energy to help. Main article: Peaceful World Saga. Ten years pass after Kid Buu's defeat, year-old Trunks has a new younger sister named Bulla. Although in the original Japanese dialogue, there is no mention of a girlfriend by Trunks, in the Funimation dub , Trunks promises Goten that he would introduce him to his girlfriend after the tournament of which his girlfriend is also watching. He ends up being paired up with Otokosuki , who manages to startle Trunks by visually flirting with him. Trunks is not seen competing in this tournament, due to Goku and Uub's leaving the competition at the end of the series. He is seen, however, holding Pan's arm in victory over defeating Goten. Five years later, Trunks is now 23 years old. Trunks has become the President of Capsule Corporation. Although it pays quite well so well that he can afford his own chauffeur and servants , he does not like the job and its overwhelming responsibilities, and will often slip out the window and fly away. Forced by Vegeta, who thinks that Trunks has grown soft during the time of peace after Kid Buu's defeat, Trunks goes on a journey with Goku and Pan who replaced Goten after sneaking aboard in a spaceship designed by Bulma in order to find the Black Star Dragon Balls. Trunks along with Goku and Pan. Later, a piece of the ship falls off and Goku, Trunks, and Pan are forced to crash land on the planet Imecka to get the parts needed to repair the ship. Groups of merchants then swarm Trunks and the others to the point that they take refuge from them in the Gold Star Hotel. They then realize they are being charged every second for everything in the hotel. They escape without paying and stumble upon the house of an old couple and their children. They talk about Don Kee the ruler of the planet and how he mistreats his rule; just then his men came and repossessed the old couple's house saying they were behind payment. Goku suggests that they go and fight Don Kee but the couple says that is impossible because of his grand army. On their way back to the ship Trunks drops the Dragon Radar and it is swallowed by the small T series robot nicknamed Giru who says that he can not give the radar back to them because it is already integrated into his system. Trunks becomes furious and starts chasing after Giru. Meanwhile, Goku notices the ship being dragged away by Don Kee's men. He tries to use Instant Transmission to teleport them to the ship but after two failed attempts realizes that he can not use it in his small body. They are forced to travel to Don Kee's palace on foot to recover their ship. Pan decides that they will use a stealth operation to recover the ship and would only result to fighting as a last resort. After briefly sneaking around, a large rock falls on Trunks' head and Giru starts making noises that alarm the guards. The guards open fire on the group. Pan jumps in the carrying car while Goku moves the ship onto the car, and Pan drives the ship out of the palace with Goku and Trunks. Goku and the others escape, but Trunks says they have to go back into town for more parts due to Pan's "reckless driving. While running from Don Kee's men, they fall into the house of a lovely old couple who offer them food after realizing Goku and company mean no harm. They say that Don Kee made it a law that no one can own a ship to escape the planet, including the old couple. Pan gets fed up and convinces Goku and Trunks to face Don Kee head-on. They turn themselves in to the police and get brought to the palace. Don Kee sicks Ledgic on the fighters after capturing Pan in an energy chamber. Trunks charges at him a bit angry, but Ledgic moves too quickly and takes him down. Worried, Goku tells Trunks to help Pan while he will take over. After a short fight, Goku defeats Ledgic, and the gang then takes down Don Kee, make him give everyone free rent and give them back their ships free of charge. Plus, Don Kee gives them the parts they need for free, and they leave Imecka. The gang then land on a planet where everything is larger than life. They find the Four-Star Ball in the tooth of a giant and they go to the next planet. The amphibian creature Zoonama would keep on terrifying the village, if they did not give him a wife. The villagers had agreed on Leena for his bride. Goku, Trunks, and Pan decide that they will help them out in exchange for the Dragon Ball, and they agree. Pan comes up with the idea to disguise Trunks as Leena it was initially Goku, but he was too small, much to Trunks' dismay. Zoonama comes and takes Trunks to his lair. His wig then falls off, revealing himself. However, Zoonama thinks Trunks is a woman with short hair, calls him cute, and forgives him. Trunks gets Zoonama tipsy, and Goku arrives with Pan and Doma. Doma cuts off Zoonama's left whisker with a massive pair of scissors, and as he cuts off the left one Zoonama awakens in a drunken rage. He begins to wiggle his whiskers, and an earthquake begins to come, but stops soon after, while Zoonama continues to wiggle his whisker. Pan realizes that he can not cause earthquakes, but only predict them. But, now, he is so intoxicated that he did not realize that the quake was over. Suddenly a massive earthquake erupts, and

Goku and the others leave the cavern with Zoonama because they are under a volcano that is starting to erupt because of the earthquake. Goku stops the huge volcano with a Kamehameha, saving the village and winning the Dragon Ball. Just as they are leaving the planet, Bon Para, one of the mysterious Para Brothers, arrives and takes the ball from Pan's hands using his telekinesis. In shock the three Z Fighters just watch as he leaves. Trunks then jumps in the ship with Pan and Goku and they chase after the Para Brothers' spaceship. The brothers trick them onto the asteroid of Beehay inhabited by huge bloodthirsty worm-like creatures called Mouma. The Para Brothers escape and fly to planet Luud. They go to Cardinal Mutchy Mutchy who tells them that they have failed and that Trunks has another Dragon Ball on his ship that they failed to get and they must go retrieve it. They travel back to find Goku and the others and they get hypnotized by the Para Para Boogie until they are saved by the hungry Mouma. Pan goes aboard the Para Brothers' spaceship to find the Dragon Ball that they stole. She accidentally activates the auto-pilot and is brought to planet Luud. There she is captured and turned into a doll for the evil lord Dolltaki. Goku shows up with Trunks and kills Cardinal Mutchy Mutchy who reveals that he is actually two parts, the body and the whip which transforms into Mutchy and fights Goku. Then Dolltaki turns everyone except for Trunks, himself, Goku, and Pan into dolls and feeds them to the machine deity called Luud. Dolltaki then awakens Luud who takes him and Pan inside of Luud's body to gain their energy. Dolltaki reveals that Goku must strike the outside of Luud's mechanical heart while Pan strikes the inside at exactly the same time. After multiple tries, Goku and Pan finally succeed and destroyed Luud freeing all of the people. Trunks then takes back his Dragon Ball and they leave the planet. Main article: Baby Saga. On planet Pital, Baby possesses Trunks a brief moment. Trunks drives him out by transforming into a Super Saiyan, which removes Baby from his body. In fact, Baby only wanted to place an egg in Trunks to be later activated on Earth. On the reconstituted New Planet Plant, he, Goten, and Gohan try to save their new lord from Uub, who seems to overpower him. However, Baby was just playing with Uub, and blasts his slaves into unconsciousness for their interference. Trunks is the first to be cured by the Sacred Water, and after being cured, he along with Gohan and Goten help to restore the energy of Super Saiyan 4 Goku so that he can finish off Baby. Trunks appears to have inherited his mother's fascination with technology. He gets distracted by the gadgets on the hospital planet, allowing Baby to sneak up on him. This turns out to have been a plan to lure the villain into a trap however, as Goku, Trunks, and Pan could sense Baby's ki when he got excited about hunting them. Since it was too late for him to compete, he observed the matches with Gohan, Videl, and Krillin. Trunks is now 24 years old. Much afterward, Trunks is ambushed by a brainwashed Android Wounded, he goes to Chi-Chi's house to warn the group. With Majuub, they successfully defeat an invasion of Saibamen. Trunks then joins the fight against Super 17, but is unable to defeat him even with the help of Gohan, Goten, Majuub, and his father Vegeta. Eventually, Super 17 is defeated by Goku who was previously trapped in Hell with the help of Android Trunks is then taken back to Capsule Corporation by his father to recover from his injuries. After repairing Giru, they search for the Dragon Balls on Earth to repair all the damage caused on the planet. Main article: Shadow Dragon Saga. Trunks is the last person to stall Omega by performing an Explosive Wave to distract the dragon while Goku and Vegeta perform the Fusion Dance. They are successful and Goku and Vegeta form Gogeta, however Gogeta defuses before he can finish Omega off. Later on when Goku is presumed dead by Omega Shenron, Vegeta decides the Earth's best bet is for him to try and defeat Omega Shenron while everyone else escapes. Before sending them off, Vegeta requests that Goten, Gohan, Trunks continue the fight if he fails. The three half-Saiyans say goodbye to their families and decide to go back to help Vegeta in the fight but they are all easily defeated. However they do succeed in distracting Omega long enough for Goku to charge his Universal Spirit Bomb which destroys the Shadow Dragon. Trunks is last seen telling Pan that the Dragon Balls will come back after the Earthlings have proven they can take care without them. Trunks is seen as a baby in the beginning of the movie, being held by Bulma at a hanami picnic with the Z Fighters. Trunks is also seen as a baby in this movie, being held by Bulma while they watch the Intergalactic World Tournament. You're still a jerk! They come across Natade Village, governed by an over-reactive priest, Maloja. Trunks, Goten, and Videl, are all informed of a monster that has terrorized the village, causing it to become impoverished. To rid the monster, Trunks, Goten and Videl leave food for the monster to attract it into a trap. While the trio is hiding, Trunks quickly steals an apple. As a result, this makes Goten jealous, and he becomes tempted to steal one. He gets a slap from Videl and pretends to cry until she gives in. Just then, a giant tyrannosaurus rex appears, and Trunks and Goten toy with it first, then defeat it. With the dinosaur gone, the villagers reject the priest for not being a savior, and is thrown out of the village. Trunks, Goten and Videl, depart the now peaceful Natade Village. Unbeknownst to the trio, however, Broly awoke due to Goten's incessant cries and broke out of the ice, which imprisoned him for seven years. Videl is the first to encounter Broly and is taken down. Trunks and Goten show up, but upon seeing Goten, Broly flies into a rage due to mistaking him for Goku and pummels the two young Saiyans though they bravely try to fight back, turning Super Saiyan in the process. It takes Goten longer than expected, and Trunks is left to fend off against Broly alone, attempting to flee until he realizes how ashamed his father would be. Eventually Gohan appears and battles Broly himself. Satan promised her. Soon, Trunks, Goten, and No. Upon arriving, Lord Jaguar sets up a tournament for Mr. Satan to fight the Bio-Warriors but instead Trunks, Goten and Android 18 easily defeat them in his place. Jaguar reveals his greatest weapon: Bio-Broly , a clone of Broly. Broly breaks out of his containment capsule, and is drenched in Culture Fluid, turning him into a horribly deformed bio-mutant. Bio-Broly was about to take Mr. Satan's life, but Trunks intervenes and saves him in time. Trunks and Goten then battle Bio-Broly head-on and seem to be an equal match for him. Bio-Broly becomes a menace, and both Trunks and Goten become seriously pounded. Bio-Broly begins squeezing the life out of Trunks with his foot, and Goten saves Trunks just in time by punching Bio-Broly in the face. Unfortunately, there is a fatal flaw in Trunks' plan; the Culture Fluid becomes more powerful, and it starts to flood the entire island. Trunks, Goten, Krillin, and 18 manage to get as many people as possible out of the lab. Trunks and Goten discover that bio-liquid solidifies by touching seawater. Trunks, Goten, and Krillin use a triple Kamehameha to blast a freak wave into the island, solidifying all bio-liquid on the island. Unfortunately, Bio-Broly emerges as a huge sea giant. However, he turns to stone, having been drenched in seawater. Trunks and Goten blast the gargantuan Bio-Broly stone statue into bits, ridding the Universe of the last remaining trace of Broly for good. A massive instability event occurs in Other World, which brings the deceased back into the living world, Earth. Among the several past villains that return to life is Frieza, his army, and a character referred to as " The Dictator ". The battle between them and The Dictator's army becomes increasingly long since reinforcements continue to pour into the city. Finally, Trunks and Goten turn into Super Saiyan to defeat the army. When they sense their fathers' fusion, they decide to fuse as well. Trunks and Goten gather their Dragon Ball after building a snowman and having a quick snowball fight then head to Capsule Corporation so that the wish can be granted. Trunks is immediately taken to Tapion and expresses his desire to be like him. However Tapion rebuffs his attempts at bonding. Undeterred, Trunks continues to try, until Hoi suddenly appears, attempting to steal Tapion's flute. Trunks is able to get a hold of it and faces the decision to give the flute back to Tapion or Hoi before ultimately deciding to trust Tapion. Afterward, the two become friends, with Tapion sharing his story with Trunks. However Hirudegarn emerges in a more powerful form and soon after, Hirudegarn attacks Gotenks so hard it causes him to split in two. With things appearing to be hopeless, Tapion tells Trunks to stab him in the heart with his sword so to stop the monster but Trunks can't bring himself to hurt his friend. Reluctantly he takes the sword, but before he can strike, Hirudegarn becomes free from Tapion once more. Later, Trunks assists Goku in attacking the monster by slicing his tail off using the sword. Once Goku defeats the evil monster Hirudegarn, Tapion gives Trunks his sword, even saying it was always meant for him in reference to Future Trunks' swordsmanship. He then says his final farewell as Tapion uses Bulma's Time Machine to return to his home. Four years after Kid Buu's defeat, Trunks is at his mother's birthday party with his family and friends. When the Pilaf Gang turned into children sneak into the party in order to steal the Dragon Balls, Trunks develops a crush on Mai and claims that she is his girlfriend just to boast to Goten. Everyone takes it seriously and Mai gets shy. Sometime later that day, Bulma's party is continued and Trunks and Mai are in a tree. Main article: Dragon Ball Super: Broly. Trunks calls Bulma from the Capsule Corporation to inform her that the six Dragon Balls collected in her laboratory have been stolen. Trunks sends the surveillance footage through the watch, which reveals that the thieves were wearing Frieza-style armor. The adults instantly recognize what is going on, but none say anything until Bulma ends the call with Trunks. Trunks then goes to Pilaf's Castle to retrieve another ball, encountering Pilaf - who sends his guardian to deal with the intruder, however Trunks defeats it and takes the Dragon Ball. Trunks then heads to the Kyodai Pyramid , saves Dr. Challenger 's men from the undead horde and defeats Pharaoh Totenhotep , he is then gifted a Dragon Ball by Challenger. Main article: Dragon Ball: Yo! Son Goku and His Friends Return!! Two year after the defeat of Kid Buu, Trunks is now at the age of Trunks and his parents go to Mr. Satan's party, where they meet Tarble , who is Vegeta's brother and Trunks' uncle. Tarble tells them about two brothers who worked for Frieza , Abo and Kado. After pulling the longest radish in a contest to see who would have to fight Avo and Cado, Trunks confronts the two brothers with Goten. After a brief battle, Aka starts to destroy everything, but he ends up being defeated by Goku. The school teaches the principle of channeling ki energy through swords to increase strike power. Their discipline has become one of the most praised disciplines on Earth as of Age Trunks has shown interest in swords since he was young, as in Age in Wrath of the Dragon , a hero named Tapion gave his sword to Trunks. Main article: Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2. Trunks is encountered in Age during the Majin Buu conflict, with him retrieving the Dragon Radar. At the same time, Super Saiyan 3 Goku fights Majin Buu, who is empowered with Villainous Mode presumably by Demigra as Towa was planning to send Mira to fight both of them; thus, it would make little sense to empower him. Mira tries to join the fight so he can defeat both of them Towa herself is implied to want revenge for Majin Buu killing her brother Dabura though he is stopped and his body destroyed by the Future Warrior who aids Super Saiyan 3 Goku fight Dark Innocent Majin Buu and his clones, while Trunks manages to retrieve the Dragon Radar like in the original history thus the correction is successful. He has Dark Piccolo attack Goten and Trunks to prevent them from fusing while Dark Super Buu fights Ultimate Gohan before having Dark Super Buu destroy Earth with a Super Vanishing Ball altering history which Demigra's Mirage is doing to weaken the barrier keeping the real Demigra imprisoned inside the Crack of Time which had been weakened previously by Towa and Mira's alterations to history allowing Demigra to send his Mirage to create more distortions in order to free himself while using the Future Warrior to eliminate Mira whom Demigra saw as a competitor and obstacles to his plan. The Future Warrior must defeat Dark Piccolo to remove the enchantment as Demigra's Mirage reveals that defeating him will not dispel it. Piccolo is freed, and the Future Warrior buys Goten and Trunks time to fuse when Super Buu appears, allowing them to fuse into Gotenks. Satan, Dende, and Bee escape thanks to Kibito Kai. Though Vegeta manages to save one of the Pudding cups for Beerus, who is about to enjoy it in contrast to the original timeline , Demigra's Mirage uses power to take control of the ball which he uses to knock the pudding cup out of Beerus' hands, angering him which ironically restores the correct flow as Beerus never go to eat the pudding. Demigra's Mirage tries to use Dark Magic to control Beerus, but the gods are shown to be quite resistant to it. Trunks and Goten fuse into Gotenks but are defeated as per the original history and the other Z Fighters while the Future Warrior holds their own. It is eventually revealed that Beerus is immune to Dark Magic. However, he pretends to be under its control to lure out Demigra's Mirage to punish him for blasphemously trying to control a God of Destruction. Demigra's Mirage is defeated, but he escapes being destroyed by the Future Warrior thanks to his intangibility and retreats. In addition to reviving the villains, he took control of Vegeta, Gohan, Goten, and Trunks. However, the Future Warrior and Goku manage to free them all after defeating the revived villains. A history change occurs in Age of Broly - Second Coming timeline. Demigra's Wormhole appears as part of a time-released spell that triggers after Demigra is killed during the Demigra Incident. Gohan and the Future Warrior manage to defeat Dark Broly. Still, he is swallowed up by Demigra's Wormhole forcing the Future Warrior to return to Age as Trunks: Xeno works to track both Broly and Bardock who had been abducted previously from Age Trunks and Goten are shown after the battle wonder where the Future Warrior went, though Trunks assumes they must have headed into Natade Village to eat and both boys decide to head into the village to get something to eat as well. Trunks: Xeno later returns Broly to Age of his timeline and the original history of that timeline is restored when Chronoa puts the scrolls together thus the events of the film play out as normal as the alterations disappear when Chronoa puts the scrolls together following a successful correction. However Dark Infected Trunks plays dirty even pretending to be freed from Baby's control in order to get them to lower their guards but Trunks: Xeno sees through his deception and warns his partner not to fall for it, before revealing he is disgusted by his Infected counterpart's evil and underhanded tactics as well as presumably disappointed his counterpart was unable to mentally resist the parasite as Trunks: Xeno was able to do when Demigra took control of his body with Dark Magic during the Demigra Incident in Trunks' defense the Tuffle parasites hold is stronger as not even Vegeta was able to resist Baby possessing him despite his strong willed personality. Later on in Age , Super Saiyan Trunks appears to join the fight against the escaped villains as a history change results in his father Vegeta not appearing, which causes Nappa to become leader of the Neo Ginyu Force in place of Captain Ginyu. Together they manage to defeat the villains, unfortunately Dark Hell Fighter 17 blasts Trunks away causing Trunks: Xeno who had suffered greatly due to the actions of Future Android 17 in his timeline to worry about his counterpart though since the warrior is never tasked with trying to prevent his death it is strongly implied he was only knocked out and survived as the Time Patrol tends to fix non-historic deaths save for villains who might be killed earlier or later than they should be. Though Trunks wants to fight alongside his father, Majin Vegeta hugs him much to his embarrassment before knocking him and Goten out. Piccolo arrives, and Majin Vegeta tells him to take the boys away as he plans to blow himself up to kill Majin Buu. However, he thanks the Future Warrior for preventing Broly from interfering with Majin Vegeta's fight with Goku as he wanted before telling them to flee as well. Majin Vegeta then uses Final Explosion dying heroically in a noble but futile attempt to protect his family and the Earth from the evil Majin Buu, whom Majin Vegeta had inadvertently unleashed. Trunks: Xeno observes the whole thing from the Time Nest, which causes Elder Kai to assume it was a rough piece of history for him to watch; however, Trunks: Xeno reveals he is proud to be his father's son understanding that Vegeta's love for his wife and son were far more potent than Babidi's Magic or Vegeta's desire to return to his evil ways so he could fight Goku without reservations, proving that Vegeta had become a good person. Though this part of the timeline is corrected as a side effect of the correction, a naturally occurring time fragment timeline is produced in which Trunks teams up with Majin Vegeta to fight both Broly and Majin Buu, which results in Parallel Quest "Daddy! Don't Die! The quest is failed if Trunks is defeated. However, as they escape the Hyperbolic Time Chamber, Towa empowers Super Buu with her new Supervillain spell by shaving off some of Super Buu's life to grant him greater dark power-up than Villainous Mode. This puts Super Saiyan 3 Gotenks and Piccolo at a disadvantage. Both Piccolo and Gotenks realize that Gotenks can't win on his own, so Piccolo even asks for the Warrior's help, though Chronoa states that Supervillain is making Super Buu grow stronger; thus, the three are barely a match for him. To make matters worse, Gotenks' fusion runs out, forcing Piccolo and the Future Warrior to fight Supervillain Super Buu on their own as Trunks and Goten need time to recover. Goten asks Trunks what they should do, though he doesn't know before stating he thinks they will need Future Warrior whom he calls "that weirdo" to protect them. Elder Kai, however, tells the Warrior to hang in there a bit longer for Ultimate Gohan to fly in and rescue them powered-up by Elder Kai's ritual. He is confident they can destroy Super Buu with his help, though Chronoa notes Elder Kai can't resist bragging. Elder Kai and Chronoa note that history seems to be back on track despite Super Buu's power-up. Elder Kai notes that in that form, even Ultimate Gohan will have a hard time fighting both Broly and Super Buu at the same time and tells the Future Warrior not to let him anywhere near Ultimate Gohan. Chronoa reveals Broly's Saiyan Power has increased his strength since he survived his previous defeat; thus, they must make sure to kill him this time. After Broly is defeated, Chronoa decides they can leave the rest to Gohan. Unfortunately, she is contacted by Trunks: Xeno, who informs them of a problem in Hell, which is preventing Vegeta from leaving to join the battle, which will render the Potara useless when Super Buu absorbs Piccolo, Gotenks, and Gohan. Chronoa tells the Future Warrior to find an opening and flee the battle, leaving Super Buu to Gohan and the others as ensuring Vegeta leaves Hell as he is supposed to be a more urgent priority. After the warrior weakens Janemba, Vegeta kills him with a Final Flash in his base form before leaving Hell where he meets up with Goku resulting in them fusing into Vegito and rescuing the boys, Gohan, and Piccolo, who are killed when Kid Buu destroys the Earth only to be revived with the Namekian Dragon Balls. Trunks meets his Future counterpart after the original Future Warrior the protagonist of Xenoverse is sent to ensure Future Trunks travels to the main timeline after Supervillain Goku Black destroys the Time Machine and Future Trunks with a Black Kamehameha in an altered timeline of Age However Goku Black arrives before Trunks learns Future Trunks is his future counterpart, thus he still worries about him being his parents secret child, which is made worse if the 2nd Future Warrior is a Saiyan as it causes him to worry they are proof of another secret child. However after Black is sucked back to Age , he is presumably informed of the true nature of his counterpart though Future Trunks has no clue who the Future Warrior is as he is not a member of the Time Patroller like Trunks: Xeno. Fortunately aid comes from an unlikely source as Rift in Time created by Goku Black ends up connecting Age to various timelines, including the GT Timeline. The Dragon Ball Super incarnation of Trunks visits Conton City with his parents and Goten, becoming acquainted with his other alternate future counterpart, Trunks: Xeno who is a different incarnation of Future Trunks than the one from Dragon Ball Super as there are notable differences though the game itself confusingly never outright states whether they are the same person or not when it is quite evident that they cannot be due to crucial differences such as Trunks: Xeno's purple hair, lack of Super Saiyan Anger, and not knowing about Beerus until Chronoa told him in Xenoverse which can only be explained away as them being alternate timeline counterparts as Trunks: Xeno was created before Future Trunks appeared in Dragon Ball Super. Bulma uses data collected in Conton City to construct the Hero Colosseum, a battle simulator that allows people to fight virtually using customizable Hero Figures, representing historical fighters. Bulma tries to promote it to the Time Patrollers in Conton City, though most of them prefer to settle things with their fists. However, Trunks and Goten, being kids, become huge fans of the game, though Trunks is better at it than Goten. Bulma continues to try and drum up interest, even giving some figures to Trunks: Xeno. Elder Kai notices him holding a figure of his younger counterpart as a Super Saiyan, which Elder Kai mistakes for a doll. At the same time, Chronoa correctly identifies it as a figure due to being more up-to-date on things, even criticizing Elder Kai for being behind the times. Trunks: Xeno gives some figures to the Future Warrior, though admits to Chronoa and Elder Kai that he forgot to ask what they were used for only knowing they could be used in some game. Chronoa then remembers she thought she saw Goten and "Little" Trunks referring to his younger counterpart playing with them earlier in Conton City, so Trunks: Xeno and the Future Warrior decide to ask them more about the game. They walk into the Hero Colosseum just as Goten loses another match against Trunks, who notes he may be just too strong at figure battles. The two incarnations of Trunks greet each other, and Trunks notices they have Hero Figures and assumes they are there to figure battle, though Trunks: Xeno who did not have a peaceful childhood due to the Androids is confused as to how they can make figures. Trunks explains it to them, even quoting his mother Bulma's previous explanation of the game that she had told him and Goten previously, though Trunks: Xeno is still confused; thus, Trunks says that it would be easier to show them. Trunks decides to take on his counterpart leaving the Future Warrior to fight Goten. Goten loses to the Future Warrior, while Trunks defeats his older counterpart, much to his dismay as he was hoping for a challenge presumably tired of winning all the time though after hearing the Future Warrior has some skill despite being a relative newbie, he decides to fight them and since they are skilled enough to beat the more experienced Goten he does not have to hold back. However, despite going all out, he loses. However, he is not discouraged as he decides he'll have to get stronger and maybe get a new figure, a sentiment shared by Goten and the boys race off to get stronger so they can beat the Future Warrior, causing Trunks: Xeno to note they both like them. Trunks: Xeno admits that he still had fun while he lost and decided this is just what the Time Patrol needs to relax. Trunks greets his mother, who reveals she saw the boys fight with Trunks: Xeno and the Future Warrior the other day. Impressed with the Future Warrior's skill despite being a relative newcomer, Bulma decides to give them the position of Chief Promoter of the Hero Colosseum, to Trunks's shock, his counterpart Goten, and the Future Warrior. Trunks: Xeno explains to his mother that the warrior is an active Time Patroller, which she reveals she is aware of though she asks them to help out when they're not on duty. Trunks: Xeno either gets roped into it by Bulma or decides to help the Future Warrior if they agree to take the job. Bulma reveals that the only real fans she has been able to get interested in are Goten and Trunks. She isn't accommodating as leaves it to Trunks: Xeno and the Future Warrior to come up with ideas. Vegeta walks in, curious as to what his wife is up to in Conton City. Trunks explains the Hero Colosseum to his father before noting he received some figures himself, reminding Vegeta of his received figures. Bulma admonishes Vegeta for not showing an interest in her work though Vegeta points out to a warrior like him that it is nothing more than a childish game. Bulma tries to interest him via his competitive ego. However, Vegeta still refuses, having learned not to let his pride get the better of him presumably due to his past encounter Semi-Perfect Cell. However, Trunks tells his father he wants to see him fight, seconded by Trunks: Xeno and Bulma manage to convince him to fight just one battle with the Future Warrior, Vegeta is defeated, and Trunks is surprised when he takes losing the game hard though in actuality, Vegeta takes the loss as one would expect with him frustrated by his loss and swearing to grow stronger before rushing off to train. After the figure battle, everyone notes the Saiyan Time Patrollers have suddenly become interested as a result of Prince Vegeta taking an interest in the game, which Trunks: Xeno states is not surprising as Saiyans tend to look up to him as he is the Saiyan Prince and after seeing an intense fight like that Saiyans can't resist trying it out themselves due to their love of fighting no matter what form it might take. Bulma decides its perfect for marketing as they can have famous people fight to drum up interest, though she leaves it up to the two Time Patrollers to figure out. Trunks occasionally helps his counterpart and the Future Warrior out with their promotion efforts due to his love of the game, giving him more people to fight against as interest in the game increases. Due to Tekka and Pinich's wish to Shenron for the Timespace Tournament to determine the strongest in time and space, the Timespace Rift is created which connects various timelines and eras together. Goten and Trunks learn of the Timespace Tournament in which teams of five compete to determine the strongest in time and space. Goten and Trunks decide to go look for teammates so they can enter. Pinich sets out on his own as he sees Tekka as his rival, thus Bulma suggests they look for Goten and Trunks. However, Ziku accidentally guides Tekka to Nappa and Raditz who Trunks and Goten had run into and defeated previously. They decide to team up with Tekka for the tournament and go back to Capsule Corp. The boys and Tekka decide to see if Goku wants to join them. However Ziku reveals Goku is in another dimension though Trunks and Goten remember how Gotenks escaped the Hyperbolic Time Chamber and Ziku confirms that they can create a hole in timespace in a similar manner using Burst Ki. Tekka opens a time hole, but instead of the Goten's father, Kid Goku appears. Trunks and Goten are confused, but Ziku confirms that it is Goku. Kid Goku is understandably shocked to learn Goten is his son and that Trunks' is Bulma's from the future. They learn that Kid Goku is from when he was still training under Kami. They meet with Bulma at Capsule Corp. Raditz recognizes Kid Goku as his younger brother Kakarot, though Kid Goku doesn't know him as he is unaware of his Saiyan heritage. Raditz and Nappa reveal they learned fusion dance after Trunks and Goten had used it during their previous unseen encounter. Trunks decides to let them keep it as they found it first and out of consideration for Mai and his friendship with Shu and Pilaf. They then decide to search the next area of the rift as they need one more teammate to participate in the tournament. However, climbing Korin's Tower tires them out, and they are forced to rest on King Kai's planet. King Kai teaches them about the energy they can utilize in the Timespace Rift and how it is used to dispel barriers and acquired through battles. They eventually manage to make it to Satan City and dispel its barrier granting them access to the city. They, however, cannot find anyone to join. Ziku detects energy coming from another dimension, and so Tekka uses Burst Ki to open another time hole. Suddenly Pan comes out, apparently having been in the midst of battle as she accidentally punches Trunks. Pan is shocked to see Kid Goku, whom she mistakes for his GT counterpart, and fears Trunks has turned into a kid as well before they explain the Timespace Rift to her. Worried about Goku and Trunks whom she has a low opinion of due to their counterparts, decides to join the team to keep them out of trouble, much to Trunks' confusion. They eventually encounter the Ginyu Force whom they befriend due to being unaware of their connection with the tyrant Frieza. They agree to break the barrier around Frieza's Spaceship as the Ginyu Force believe someone important to them presumably Frieza is trapped inside. They manage to break the barrier but find no one on the ship and report back to the Ginyu Force. This allows Tekka, Goku, Goten, Trunks, and Pan to fuse into an Ultra Fusion the race and gender of which is determined by the one that initiated it such as an Male Earthling Ultra Fusion if Trunks or Goten initiate it as Earthling Saiyan hybrids are considered Earthlings which while powerful has limited fusion time. While Goten, Trunks, Tekka, and Goku enjoyed it Pan is mortified by the embarrassing dance that they have to perform. Thankful, Goten and Trunks teach the Ginyu Force the fusion dance which impresses the Ginyu Force who like it due to their love of posing. Ziku later detects a high power level near Frieza's Spaceship which Tekka's Team and the Ginyu Force investigate discovering it is coming from another dimension. Tekka uses Burst Ki to open a time hole but inadvertently frees the cocooned Frieza after his second death from Earth's Hell. Frieza orders the Ginyu Force to kill Tekka's Team, which they reluctantly obey. Ginyu wants to fuse with Frieza, but he refuses to do so; thus, Captain Ginyu, Gulce, and Recurter take on Tekka's team. However, they are defeated, which causes them and Frieza to retreat, abandoning Frieza's Spaceship in the process. Trunks decides to keep the ship and have his mother convert it into a mobile base for Tekka's Team to travel around the Timespace Rift easier and give them a place to rest and relax. Bulla asks Tekka's Team to help drum up business for the Clothing Shop in Satan City so she can have someplace to go shopping. They end up passing out fliers, which helps drum up business. Bulla thanks them before deciding to reveal her status as Trunks' younger sister enjoying the fact that she is older than him and his shocked reaction as it is implied he comes from the timeline before Bulla was born. While traveling to the next area, their Spaceship crashes into Pinich, who fortunately lands on a nearby floating island. Tekka wakes him, and they apologize for hitting him. Suddenly Vegeta appears, and Trunks learns his dad has taken on the young Saiyan Pinich as a student. They continue to Kame House, where Goku meets Master Roshi, who refuses to join Tekka's Team though he does agree to teach them how to recruit fighters with Zenkai Attacks and by taking part in Sub-Quests to increase energy and gain more teammates. Back in the Area 2F, they hear a girl screaming and discover Bulla being attacked by some fighters. Tekka's Team step in to rescue her but find that it was all an act as Bulla was trying to get a pure hearted boy named Dennish to notice her by creating a damsel in distress scenario so he would come to her rescue. She angrily tells them to mind their own business before rushing off. However, they end up foiling another one of her attempts behind Orange Star High School, causing her to tell them to back off or there will be trouble. Bulla, tired of their constant interference, decides to stage another fake rescue, and sure enough, Tekka's Team falls for it, and she decides to fulfill her promise challenging them to a fight. Trunks is surprised that Bulla knows how to fight, given her personality, causing her to remind him she too has their parents' blood flowing through her veins. However, due to her lack of training, as she is not a serious fighter like Trunks, Goten, Pan, Goku, or Tekka, Bulla loses along with the fighters who helped her with her schemes. Bulla asks why Tekka and their team kept butting in only to be touched to learn they were worried and decides she likes their style. Bulla forgets about trying to get Dennish interest and joins Tekka's Team. Tekka's team later learn that fighters have been congregating at the Cell Games Arena where they face off against several teams. Suddenly Ziku detects Goku and Piccolo's ki coming from another dimension. Tekka opens up a time hole, but Ziku suddenly detects Vegeta, Frieza, and King Cold's energy causing

Kid Goku to realize something is wrong. Cell reveals he attacked them in order to lure out Adult Goku who comes from the same timeline as Trunks and Goten. Goku convinces Cell to let him train Tekka's Team so they can defeat him. However Pilaf Gang have been hounded by fighters as they searched for the Dragon Balls end up making a wish that summons Broly to the Timespace Rift. Trunks and Goten remember Broly having had encountered him in their timeline of origin. Broly targets Kid Goku as he recognizes his hated nemesis whom he knew as a baby. Tekka's Team find Broly to strong to defeat on their own and decide to open time holes in hopes of finding an ally to defeat him after Pinich is knocked out while trying to help Tekka's Team. The time hole summons Towa and Mira to the Timespace Rift. Both Trunks and Goten are awestruck by Towa's beauty while Pan is shocked to learn that she knows Trunks. Towa agrees to help them deal with Broly, though this is just a ruse as Towa uses her power to turn Broly into a Great Ape as payback for the what Trunks: Xeno did. Trunks has no idea what she's taking about while Pan assumes Trunks was the one at fault due to being unaware that Towa is a villain. Tekka's Team are forced to fight Great Ape Broly and manage to defeat him but he revives, though fortunately Beerus appears and knocks the Legendary Great Ape away with a ki blast, causing Towa and Mira to flee not wanting to tangle with the God of Destruction. Perfect Disguise?! It is suggested that he ask Fortuneteller Baba, but Trunks isn't comfortable asking himself, so Gohan suggests he disguise himself and gives him a Great Saiyaman Suit. Though he is unsure due to his dislike of the suit, he begrudgingly accepts the disguise and goes to Baba's Palace. However, Baba reveals her high service charge which, ironically, Trunks can't afford it himself, despite his family's immense wealth. However, she tells him about her fighters as an alternate method of payment, which Trunks accepts. He manages to defeat Fangs, See-through, and Bandages. He holds his own against Devilman, but when Devilman reveals his Devilmite Beam technique's ability to destroy those with impure hearts, Trunks is unsure if he is pure enough to survive and eventually forfeits, resolving that he will face whatever the future holds together with Mai. Ironically after he leaves, Mai asks Baba about her love life and future with Trunks as the event ends. Trunks was able to achieve the Super Saiyan form much earlier than his father and future counterpart. Due to a combination of his Saiyan heritage and having trained under his father Vegeta at an early age, Trunks was a capable fighter. He continuously trains with his father, Vegeta, in the Gravity Room because Vegeta wants Trunks to be stronger than Goten. While preparing for the 25th World Martial Arts tournament, training under times gravity is challenging for Trunks. However, when he transforms into a Super Saiyan, he is able to move easily in the Gravity Room. Due to his strong friendship and friendly rivalry with Goten, both are shown to work well as a team, this made him and Goten ideal candidates for learning the Fusion Dance. In the anime, after training in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber for a week and managing to have Gotenks achieve Super Saiyan 3 , Trunks states that he and Goten have become more than twice as strong as before. When peace came after defeating Kid Buu, Trunks stopped training. In Dragon Ball Super , Trunks only fought with Goten or fused with him, due to the extreme gap in power between himself and their enemies. Despite being fused as Gotenks, the duo often were overpowered by foes such as Beerus and Duplicate Vegeta , although they were able to damage Tagoma and were able to interest the newly revived Frieza. After meeting his future counterpart, Trunks attempts to re motivate him by insulting him and attacking him as a Super Saiyan. While the fight was unseen, we are able to see post battle Trunks even as a Super Saiyan was not even a remote challenge for Future Trunks , who appeared no worse for wear while Trunks himself was completely exhausted. By the time of the Universe Survival Saga , in the manga Super Saiyan Trunks was able to hold off multiple Cell Juniors at once, though he appeared to be at a disadvantage. Vegeta also tells Android 17 that Trunks is just as good as the Trunks 17 knew , despite being a kid. In Dragon Ball GT at the start of the series it is stated that Trunks has not been training seriously. He is also able to somewhat keep up with Goku against Luud. Myuu is interested in Trunks' power, and remarks that he'd make a fine Machine Mutant. In the Baby Saga , when Goku states that Rilldo is stronger than Majin Buu, Trunks states that he is getting riled up, excited to fight him However he does not, because of the plan he and Giru came up with in order to get the Dragon Balls back. Seeing the enraged Pan knock down Rilldo, Trunks considers the possibility that she is stronger than him. Goku also remarks that he found it strange that Trunks was beaten so easily, which gave away his plan to Goku. He is later shown to be much stronger than infant Baby and was too strong for Baby to control, Baby even went as far as to describe his power as "bottomless". When in control of Goten's body, Baby notes that he will need Vegeta's body to surpass Trunks. When Trunks attacks Golden Great Ape Baby, the latter now finds his power sad due to the now massive gap. Though they were no match for Broly and were only able to damage him a little. In Dragon Ball: Yo! inspired by Gohan's book Groundbreaking Science , in Age Trunks along with his best friend Goten became the founders of the Kikoukenjutsu Sword Style and through intense training

Trunks developed his natural potential as a master swordsman alongside Goten, leading to the foundation of the Kikoukenjutsu Sword School. In Age , at the age of 54 both he and Goten age 53 used their school's sword-based style to defeated an army Jigglers during an invasion of Earth by the remnants of the Frieza Force following the death of Mr. He was capable transforming before his first appearance onscreen during his training with his father, Vegeta, while they are preparing for the 25th World Martial Arts Tournament by training inside a gravity chamber; the Super Saiyan transformation allows Trunks to withstand, and easily run around at times the gravity of Earth, which he was barely able to walk around before transforming. Trunks uses the form in Dragon Ball Super as well but seldomly fights due to the extreme gap in power between himself and the foes, often fusing with Goten instead. Trunks only uses this form in an unseen fight with his Future counterpart but is assumed to have been badly beaten and he is virtually exhausted upon seeing him post battle while his Future counterpart is perfectly fine. This state appears for the first time as a playable character in Dragon Ball Heroes , as both base and Super Saiyan forms. Main article: Super Saiyan 3. Main articles: Tuffleization and Baby. Main article: Strongest Form 1. In this form, Super Saiyan Trunks is possessed by the Tuffle parasite Baby, which results in him being transformed directly in the Strongest Form 1. While using this power up his eyes glow red, and he gains a purple and black aura. Main article: Great Saiyaman Suit. Gotenks is the fusion created when Trunks and Goten perform the Fusion Dance. Gotenks' power far surpasses either of the fighters' individual strengths, as he attains not only the Super Saiyan form, but also the Super Saiyan 3 form. Trunks and Goten are capable of fusing into Gotenks within 0. Main article: Failed Fusions The Incorrect Style Fusions of Trunks and Goten are the result of Trunks and Goten incorrectly performing the Fusion Dance which resulted in the creation of two failed versions of Gotenks that are considerably weaker than their fused counterparts individually. The first failed version of Gotenks is a fat Gotenks who was created when Trunks extends his finger at the last minute when he and Goten say, "-sion! Like Fused Zamasu , he is a fusion of alternate timeline counterparts. Main article: Ultra Fusion. Trunks has appeared in eye drops commercials and Dragon Ball Z school supply commercials , which is a part of the Dragon Ball series ' good influence on education and is one of their reach outs. This wiki. This wiki All wikis. Sign In Don't have an account? Start a Wiki. Do you like this video? This article is about Vegeta's son. For his future counterpart, see Future Trunks. For Ranfan 's husband, see Trunks Ranfan's husband. Techniques Flight â€" The ability to fly using ki. Ki Blast â€" The most basic form of energy wave. Ki Sense â€" An ability that allows the user to sense ki and power levels. Rapid Movement - The fighter moves with great speed, which creates the illusion of teleportation. Vision Smash â€" Trunks dodges the opponent's attack, flies above them and punches them in the face. He then appears behind them whilst saying "Behind you! Trunks firing the Double Buster during the 25th World Tournament Double Buster â€" First, Trunks brings both his arms to the side of his torso and changes his ki. Then, he extends his arms forward and fires a golden energy wave at the opponent, inflicting a high amount of damage. Trick Buster â€" First, Trunks opens his hands forward and charges a yellow energy sphere. Then, Trunks fires the sphere, which creates a sizable dome of energy on impact, inflicting a high amount of damage. Trunks prepare to fire his Big Tree Cannon on Bio-Broly Big Tree Cannon â€" Trunks starts the attack by extending his arms to both sides of himself and forms two golden or blue energy spheres. Then, he brings his arms in front of him and holds out his hands with his index fingers pointed outward like a child pretending to use a gun, and fires a large golden energy wave at the opponent, inflicting a high amount of damage. Trunks fires the Energy Burst at Broly Energy Burst â€" The user usually brings their arms to their sides, charges up ki, and then he throws his hands forward one after another as he rapidly fires many energy blasts. Kamehameha â€" Trunks never displays the knowledge of how to use this attack in the original manga series, however he displays this skill in Bio-Broly , and later in Dragon Ball GT. Super Kamehameha â€" Used in Xenoverse. Multiple Kamehameha - Two or more fighters fire multiple Kamehamehas one per fighter simultaneously at a single point. This usually causes their separate Kamehamehas to merge into one giant Kamehameha blast at the opponent. Friend Kamehameha â€" Goten and Trunks both fire a Kamehameha together at the same time. Fusion Dance â€" A short series of poses that are performed by two characters of equal power levels and roughly equal size. To correctly perform the Fusion, the fusees must strike the poses in a perfectly symmetrical image of one another. The result of a correctly performed Fusion Dance is a superior being whose power is multiplied several-fold over that of the individual fusees. If the dance is performed incorrectly, it will result in an obese or skinny character who is much weaker than either fusee individually. Power Stance â€" A fighting stance. Brave Cannon â€" First, the user puts his two arms on his right side and charges a large, powerful ball of ki. Then, he throws the ball at his opponent, causing an explosion which inflicts a large amount of damage. Buster Cannon â€" Future Trunks draws his hands back down to his sides and charges two blue energy spheres in his hands. Then, he combines them together in front of him to fire the energy wave at the opponent, inflicting a great amount of damage. Burning Storm â€" First, Future Trunks places his hands forward at a 90 degree angle and charges a blue energy sphere. Then, he fires a barrage of energy spheres from the energy sphere at the opponent, inflicting a great deal of damage. God Breaker â€" Trunks extends his hand forward and fires a yellow energy wave at his opponent, inflicting a large amount of damage. Double Strike â€" A combined downward kick used in conjunction with Goten. Explosive Wave â€" A technique where the user bursts out ki from all over their body in order to repel the opponents around them. Persuasion - A user of persuasion are incredibly persuasive and are able to bring anyone to understand and feel for there viewpoint, and can convince others of virtually anything. Jump Kick Trunks â€" Trunks jumps forward and spin kicks the opponent, hitting them up to three times. Saulting Kick â€" Trunks performs a backflip, kicking the opponent as he flips. Kakusan Energy Dan â€" Trunks lets out three ki blasts all at once, one hovering over the other. He flips upside-down and kicks the opponent in the head numerous times, and then he knocks them flat with a Big Tree Cannon. Finish Buster â€" Used in several video games. Burning Attack â€" Used in several video games. Final Cannon â€" Used in video games. Blast Attack â€" Trunks kicks the opponent up in the air, and then he kicks and punches them down again. Used in the Budokai series, where it is also one of Future Trunks' techniques. Grand Impulse â€" Trunks grabs and kicks his opponent up in the air. Used in the Budokai series. High Tension Turn - Used in Xenoverse. Armored Boost - Used in Xenoverse. Incorrect Style Fusions Main article: Failed Fusions The incorrect Style Fusions of Trunks and Goten are the result of Trunks and Goten incorrectly performing the Fusion Dance which resulted in the creation of two failed versions of Gotenks that are considerably weaker than their fused counterparts individually. The Ultra Fusion's race Saiyan, Earthling, Alien, Offworlder, or Namekian , gender, and voice are determined by the one who initiates the fusion. If initiated by Kid Goku, the result will be a Male Saiyan. Outside the main story, Kid Trunks can perform the fusion with any 4 member of Tekka's Team. Vegeta Super Saiyan training Trunks vs. Idasa Trunks vs. Satan Trunks and Goten Mighty Mask vs. Android 18 Trunks Super Saiyan vs. Giant Snake Anime only Trunks and Goten vs. Gryll and his gang Anime only Trunks Super Saiyan vs. Imeckian Soldiers Trunks vs. Ledgic Trunks and Goku vs. Spider Trunks, Goku, and Pan vs. Mouma Trunks, Goku, and Pan vs. Cardinal Mutchy Mutchy Trunks and Goku vs. Luud Trunks and Goku vs. Sandipede Trunks and Goku vs. Bizu Trunks, Goku, and Pan vs. Baby Golden Great Ape Trunks vs. Android 17 Trunks and Goten vs. Yakon Trunks and Goten vs. Android 19 Trunks, Uub Majuub , and Goten vs. Super 17 Trunks, Goten, and Uub Majuub vs. Satan vs. Hirudegarn Second Form Trunks and Goten vs. Abo and Cado Trunks and Goten vs. Great Ape Wrath State. Evil Saiyan. Spirit Bomb Super Saiyan. Super Kaio-ken. Goku Jr. Categories :. Universal Conquest Wiki. FandomShop Newsletter GalaxyQuest. Fusion Dance. Affiliated Groups. Saiyan fusions. Ordinary transformations. Hybrid transformations. Other transformations. Earthling Transformations. Bases and Vehicles. Prest Tournament Debut. Being completely outmatched, no way out. Imagine how all the innocent people you've hunted for years have felt. Always hiding. Always on edge. Fearing tomorrow. You killed them all without a second thought. You've made life a living hell for everyone because no one could stand up to you. You've been in power too long. Well, your time ran out today. Now you're in the fire, so you'd better enjoy it! By the time Present Trunks was born, the timeline had been altered by Future Trunks' and Cell 's trips to the past. Therefore, the two Trunks had completely different lives as opposed to those who lived before the Time Machines arrived, who lived exactly the same lives as their counterparts until the point at which the two timelines diverge, three years before the androids arrived. Well-mannered, serious and very cautious, Trunks hails from an alternate timeline in which Future Androids 17 and 18 murdered the Dragon Team and proceeded to create apocalyptic hell on Earth. Years later, Future Trunks would return in Dragon Ball Super , this time fighting against a mysterious entity referred to as Goku Black and later his counterpart wreaking havoc in the future. In the end, Trunks with the help of Goku and Vegeta neutralizes the threat, though unfortunately, Zamasu not only survives the ordeal, but he becomes an even bigger threat, to the point that Future Zeno was needed to erase him. Trunks himself is one of the three survivors and is currently living in another future timeline where another Future Trunks exists - created in the anime by Whis warning Future Beerus ahead of time to eliminate the soon-to-be rogue Supreme Kai, while in the manga Trunks and Mai travel to their timeline's past and prevent Future Shin's death with the blessing of Beerus as it will save his counterpart, thus eliminating the possibility of the Project Zero Mortals. Trunks is a slim yet well-built young man of below average height and light skin-color; his facial features and skin-tone are inherited from his father. He has blue eyes, and hair colored either lavender, purple or blue depending on the media, that is soft and straight that parts from the top of his head to frame both sides of his face reaching his ears with two loose strands over his forehead; traits he inherited from his mother. In his childhood, his hair parted at his right temple with strands hanging out and the top of his head sweeping to the left. As a teenager on, his hairline parted at the center of his head. In his childhood, he wore a white shirt with blue long sleeves and the Capsule Corporation title on the chest along with grey sweatpants and blue boots. During his first adventure in the present timeline, he is usually seen wearing an indigo jacket reaching his abdomen with the Capsule Corporation logo on the left sleeve, a black tank-top, dark gray pants with a white belt, golden boots, and a computerized watch. His most noticeable accessory is his broadsword hanging on his back and over his right shoulder in a red sheath with a blue strap. Later, for his battle against Cell, he wears clothing identical to his father's: a blue skin-tight jumpsuit with Saiyan Battle Armor , white boots with yellow tips, and white gloves. Following his training in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber, he grows noticeably taller and more muscular, though he is still somewhat shorter and thinner than Goku. He also sports longer hair reaching past his shoulders, which is later cut back to its normal length. In Bojack Unbound , Trunks retains his primary attire from the Androids Saga, but his indigo jacket has been replaced with an identical vest, and he also retains his long hair. In Dragon Ball Super , Trunks' clothes change somewhat from the outfit he initially wore; he wears a periwinkle-colored jacket that reaches his waist with the Capsule Corporation logo on the left sleeve, with a long red scarf around his neck, dark gray pants, and pale-green boots with black tips. Underneath his jacket, Trunks wears an olive green shirt with patches on the shoulders and forearms, reminiscent of British military standard issue jumpers. Noticeably, his hair and eyebrow color is blue in all Super media. Trunks wears a World War-esque black trench coat with a fur-lined collar and an olive green sweater underneath, olive green pants with lighter-colored bandages around his shins and brown colored laced boots which. Additionally, Trunks also carries a new sword, while wearing these clothes. Trunks: Xeno retains his original lavender hair color. In the Prison Planet Saga , Future Trunks post- "Future" Trunks Saga wears a black vest with a Capsule Corp logo on the shoulder, he maintains his red scarf though wears it differently. After being imprisoned he wears a green prison uniform. Trunks, having never met his father, nor grown up under his influence, combined with the fact that he grew up in an apocalyptic world, is very cautious, broody, and serious such as when he begged Vegeta not to challenge the Androids without Goku being present [10] or when he did not want Vegeta to trust Paragus , [11] unlike his main timeline counterpart , who had a personality very similar to his father's. Examples include suggesting that Goku eat a Senzu Bean during his fight against Perfect Cell, attempting to destroy present Androids 17 and 18 before they could be activated, tries to attack Cell while transforming and immediately destroy his oppositions without wasting any time. This contrasts his present day counterpart, who arrogantly stated he intended to fight Goten with one hand on one occasion. Future Trunks clearly fears the Androids, panicking at the introduction of Android He also appears to be afflicted with a degree of post-traumatic stress as a result of the struggles he faced in his apocalyptic nightmarish world. When he finally meets Vegeta in the past, Future Trunks is seen to be constantly trying to impress him. This is often mixed with disgust and horror towards his father's uncaring attitude towards those around him, especially when Vegeta refused to save Bulma and baby Trunks when Dr. Gero blows up their capsule airplane , forcing Future Trunks to save his present counterpart and mother. Because he comes from the future and believes he knows what is going to happen, Future Trunks is usually shown thinking that only some things will matter and others probably would not although he is usually right in the long term. This is shown in, at first, his resistance to do anything unless Goku is present. Other things, such as his surprise that Piccolo 's fusion would make a difference, also show this. As such, he is usually surprised at events on a different layer than the fact that history was different from his recollection. He is even though very rarely shown to be cocky, such as when he became a Super Saiyan Third Grade , but when he loses his seeming "advantage" this cockiness dissolves instantly. Molded from his dark timeline, he is very serious and is a determined fighter like his father. Unlike his father or alternate timeline self, Future Trunks is often shown to be very polite and well-mannered. This is clearly shown in the original version through his speech, as he is often heard using the polite form of Japanese phrases when addressing his allies. However, Future Trunks does have some qualities typical of Saiyans, especially before he went into the past. Before jumping into the past, Future Trunks had little interest in his mother's invention, believing it to be unnecessary and not entirely believing that Goku was the caliber of warrior that was needed to defeat the Androids, but after he got thrashed good and hard by the Androids from his timeline after becoming a Super Saiyan, he finally decided that he was ready to give her idea a try. In the manga, however, he does at one point flip the bird at Imperfect Cell. After Black appeared on Earth, brought humanity to the brink of extinction, killed his mother, and almost Future Mai ,

Trunks' post-traumatic stress began to resurface, when he mistook Goku for Black, and attacked him without thinking, and only stopped after noticing Bulma , realizing he had arrived in the past, and when he was flying to Gohan's house , Trunks began to have visions of his destroyed future instead of the peaceful present timeline. Despite achieving his goal of returning to the past, and seeing all of his friends alive and well, Trunks still could not let go of the traumatic events he had been through, and always had a saddened and uncomfortable look on his face. Only when he met Gohan and his family, Trunks was finally able to lighten up and start enjoying himself in the past. Another trait of Trunks' personality that was hinted in Dragon Ball Super , was that Future Trunks only desired to become stronger in order to defeat the current threat that appeared before him the Androids, Future Majin Buu , and Black , and defeating those threats were his only goals. Vegeta told Trunks that he should not just train simply when a new enemy appeared, and his goal in life should be training every day to become stronger, because he would never know when an enemy stronger than the one before could appear, and should always be ready for them, despite being in times of peace. This caused Trunks to finally realize the reason behind Vegeta's desire for excessive training, and also made Trunks promise his father to not only defeat Black, but grow stronger than he ever did before to protect the future. After being defeated by Future Zamasu and Black even with Goku and Vegeta's assistance , and realizing the rogue Supreme Kai's immortality and the dark entity's ever growing power, Future Trunks felt utterly hopeless on being able to save everyone in his time, but eventually got over it thanks to his Present counterpart. However even though Future Trunks is very different from his main timeline counterpart he shares one trait with him and that is his ability to create and execute complex battle strategies and attack at appropriate times during battle while battling stronger opponents to gain the advantage and this trait Future Trunks displays on a large number of occasions throughout his appearances in Dragon Ball Z and Dragon Ball Super this trait he may have inherited from his father. Trunks first displays this in Dragon Ball Super on his second encounter with Black shooting a Masenko at him to distract Black so Trunks could flee to the past. Another example is when Trunks turns into Super Saiyan Third Grade to cause Vegeta to drop his guard and attack and when Vegeta gets close he powers up to Super Saiyan 2 and was able fight evenly with him for a time while Vegeta was taken aback by the change. During battle Future Trunks is quite easily able to see through and adapt and change tactics, something no other Saiyan displays, even Gohan. This trait shined the most when Trunks stayed behind to fight both Black and Zamasu at the same time, effectively able to learn and adapt to how Zamasu was protecting Black to actually get damage onto Black and was even able to knock Black out cold at one point. At the end of the "Future" Trunks Saga, as Future Trunks and Future Mai were about to disappear in the Time Machine, both Gohan and Piccolo appeared to bid farewell, Trunks looks at the former and was saddened that he couldn't save anyone in his timeline. Trunks began to cheer up after Gohan tells him to take care remembering his old master: Future Gohan , and happily looks forward to protecting everyone in the new timeline. Future Trunks' favorite food is convenience store bento [5] and he enjoys tinkering with machines. Chronologically the two met as young kids after the Pilaf gang wished for youth to Shenron just seconds before Future Piccolo's death. Both Future Trunks and Future Mai momentarily looked at one-another before the latter departed. Trunks is quite close to Mai and has saved her life on a number of occasions and vice-versa. When he thought that Goku Black had killed her, Trunks became so enraged that he immediately attacks the dark entity. After returning to his time, Trunks was tearfully relieved when he found out that she was still alive. After returning to the future the second time and learning that Mai had gotten severely injured from fighting off Black, he takes action and heals her with a senzu bean in a kissing fashion. After the deaths of the remaining Earthlings from Infinite Zamasu's assault, Trunks consoles the grief-stricken Mai. Humorously, whenever other characters mention the possibility of them being in a relationship, both Trunks and Mai deny it while blushing at the same time. Due to living in such a bleak and dangerous future, Future Trunks is very different than his present time counterpart. Due to a hostile and lonely life with nearly everyone dead, Trunks' best and only friend is Future Gohan. They also have quite a bit of personality differences; while Present Trunks is cocky and arrogant like his father, Future Trunks is not, taking more after his mother Bulma. Another large difference is that Future Trunks is able to see through enemy tactics and adapt strategies while in a fight, something his present counterpart while able to do so if he applies himself is far from efficient at. His present counterpart often prefers to charge in head first to fights while Future Trunks prefers to think before acting. In both Budokai 3 and Shin Budokai , young Trunks states that it is "Just like having a brother", whereas in Legendary Super Warriors and Tenkaichi 2 , he does not even realize it is his future self and the two have a sparring match. In Raging Blast , Future Trunks is disappointed that Trunks has become spoiled and arrogant in times of peace. However, he retracts his disdain for the boy after being surprised by the young Saiyan 's strength after they battle, most notably at his ability to transform into a Super Saiyan at such a young age. They did meet in the manga and anime, however, when Trunks was still just a baby; once when Future Trunks rescued him and Bulma from Dr. For a minute, Trunks incessantly pulled on Future Trunks' hair. He also shows disgust towards the Infected Trunks' underhanded tactics such as pretending to have returned to normal to fool Pan and the Future Warrior, though Future Trunks is able to see through his infected counterpart's lie and warns the Warrior foiling his infected counterpart's plan. However, during the games' Super 17 Saga , Trunks gains Future Trunks' respect after he witnesses his counterpart's willingness to confront the Neo Ginyu Force in place of his father and even cheers on his counterpart. However, in Super , both Future Trunks and Present Trunks meet and greet each other when Bulma explains the former's situation. When Future Trunks engaged in a sparring match with Goku, present Trunks cheered for him, also impressed by his power. Present Trunks tries to make Future Trunks feel better until Bulma found a way back to the future she gets the time machine Cell came in from the Future hoping with everyone hoping it will work. Present Day Trunks slowly began to get jealous of his Future counterpart because Mai was starting to fall for Future Trunks. Present Trunks then starts to win Mai over by acting like his Future counterpart but fails. Eventually when Future Trunks explains his world to Present Trunks, Present Trunks begins to show great care and concern for his older counterpart, loving him as if he was his older brother. Why'd you go at it alone. You should've let me help you! Damn you! You didn't have to do it alone! I can't do it without you! You were the only friend I ever had. It's not fair! Trunks was born in Age and is from an alternate timeline, one in which the Earth had been continuously terrorized by the evil Android 17 and Android By the time we are introduced to the pair of Androids , over three fourths of the world's population has been eliminated due to their spree of destruction. In this future, Gohan and Trunks are weaker versions of themselves without the training of the experienced Dragon Team later on. In this timeline , Goku dies of a heart virus six months before the Androids arrive, leaving the Z Fighters without one of their greatest heroes. His father Vegeta and all of the other Z Fighters except Future Gohan are killed, with the Androids easily outclassing them in power since they were both built to be more powerful than Goku. The Z Fighters are unable to be wished back to life as the Dragon Balls are permanently useless, due to Piccolo 's death, which also kills Kami. Over the course of the next thirteen years, Gohan becomes Future Trunks' mentor and trains him in everything he knows, also teaching him swordsmanship. However, with everyone already dead and having not yet felt a certain level of sadness and sorrow, Trunks simply cannot find the motivation to transform in the manga, Trunks had already achieved the Super Saiyan form at this time. Trunks is at age 14 at the time. In an amusement park named Super World , Gohan and Trunks face the Androids in battle where Trunks, in his inexperience, is cornered by Android Gohan is forced to sacrifice himself to save Future Trunks, losing his arm in the process which only further demoralizes Trunks and causes his confidence to fall. Trunks tries repeatedly to attain Super Saiyan during training but still struggles with it, unlike his alternate-timeline self who attains it at a much younger age and with relative ease. Future Trunks finally transforms into a Super Saiyan after finding Gohan's dead body. Later in Age , the pair are drawn into battle against the Androids again, so Gohan knocks Trunks unconscious knowing that if he faces them again he will be killed. Gohan holds his own against the Androids at Pepper Town , being stronger than each individually only in the anime; Gohan initially lost against Android 17 who was using less than half his full strength, and even after the years of training with Trunks, he is effortlessly defeated by the foe and killed before Trunks awakens but unable to compete with both of them and their infinite energy reserves. Gohan is defeated and killed, leaving Trunks to find his body lying in the rain. Overcome with anger and grief, Trunks finally transforms into a Super Saiyan in the manga, he was able to transform already, but due to his inexperience was unable to even keep up with an arm-less Gohan in his normal state, until his training for the next three years and spends the next few years training to avenge his fallen allies, though he still struggles to defeat them. All those people! And all those children! I won't let you do this anymore! After another close escape at Bridgetown in Age , Future Bulma reveals her Time Machine to her son, which she hopes he will use to return to the past and save Goku , hopefully altering the future. In this future, Trunks did not know his father Vegeta at all, as he was only an infant at the time he was murdered by the Androids. Main article: Trunks Saga. Living on Earth in my time is like living in a nightmare in Age , Trunks travels back in time 20 years, in order to warn Goku about the android threat in the near future, as well as to deliver medication that will cure Goku of the heart virus that he is supposed to die from. However, upon arrival he is greeted by Frieza with his father King Cold , and he kills all the soldiers Frieza and his father had brought to Earth. They had come to Earth in order to seek revenge upon Goku's loved ones, and to kill Goku himself. Trunks, then seventeen years old, did not look like much of a threat to Frieza, and he freely told him so. Trunks implies his ability to transform into a Super Saiyan, but Frieza, albeit initially shocked, laughs it off along with his father. Trunks, anticipating that Frieza does not believe him, proves it by transforming, to Frieza's horror. Frieza was then given three opportunities to kill Future Trunks, but the young Super Saiyan is able to block and dodge the attacks with ease. Frustrated, Frieza fires a Supernova at Trunks. Trunks just catches the attack and tells Frieza that he must have "dropped it," after which Frieza detonates the blast with an Energy Wave only in the anime, while in the manga Frieza never tried a planet-busting ki attack, and fired this blast immediately instead. Future Trunks then easily remains unscathed and performs what he calls the Burning Attack to have Frieza dodge the blast, which is followed up by his Shining Sword Attack. Frieza, cut in half, was defeated by having his body hacked to pieces and Future Trunks then followed up with an energy blast, and was soon followed by his arrogant father King Cold, who was killed by a God Breaker. Trunks then guides the Dragon Team congregated nearby to the place where Goku is going to land, and they all for Goku to arrive. He offers the Z Fighters a drink from his capsule cooler. During their wait, Trunks keeps staring at Vegeta due to it being the first time he actually met his father since he died during the Android attack in his timeline while he was still a baby , causing the latter to demand to know why he is staring at him. In addition, Bulma notes Trunks' resemblance to Vegeta in facial features and Tien speculates that he must have met Goku during the latter's trip in outer space, although the theory is shot down when Chiaotzu reminds them that Trunks said he never actually met Goku before. After two hours, upon looking at his watch, Trunks informs the Z Fighters that Goku's ship is about to land. When Goku arrives, Trunks finds out to his chagrin that he interfered with the timeline unnecessarily; although he was several hours away by space pod, Goku was prepared to step in using his Instant Transmission technique just as he did in Trunks' original timeline when Trunks showed up and killed Frieza. Trunks then informs Goku of the future where the Androids arrive and kill all of the Z Fighters in a large battle, also telling Goku not to inform anyone about his parents. However, Piccolo 's sensitive Namekian ears pick up the conversation, and while he doesn't reveal any information about Trunks, Piccolo tells the Z Fighters of the future, inspiring the heroes to train their hardest for the next three years. However inadvertently, Trunks' revelation of the future alters it slightly. Main article: Androids Saga. I had hoped that in the past, with Goku's help, I would find the androids had some weakness. That way I could go back to the future. And even though I still wouldn't be able to bring back all those already gone, I might be able to save the people who are left. When the androids eventually appear and they face the Z Fighters, Goku had not contracted the heart disease six months prior like he was supposed to; instead he contracted it during the battle against Android Before Goku could be killed, Vegeta saves him, telling Yamcha to take him home and cure him with his medication, and reveals his new Super Saiyan form, killing Android 19 with great ease when he uses his signature Big Bang Attack to reduce him to a smoldering head. Trunks returns to the past to find Android 19's detached head on the Southern Continent and Android 20 , two androids he never saw in his timeline and realizes that this timeline is now branching off considerably from his own. When Android 20 who is, Dr. Gero in reality releases the real androids of his future, Android 17 and Android 18 , they rebel and kill their creator before releasing the previously unknown Android The androids of this timeline prove to be considerably stronger than the ones Trunks had fought, to the point where Android 18 is able to even easily take down Super Saiyan Vegeta and Super Saiyan Trunks together. Vegeta fights Android 18 and eventually loses. Trunks rushes to his father's aid, in an attempt to slash her with his sword; however, she blocks the attack causing the sword to crack, much to his astonishment , and he was struck down by Android 17 seconds later. Moments later, he had recovered and attempts another attack; however, Android 18 caught on to this and throws Vegeta at him. Trunks was then defeated, while returning to his base form. Afterwards, he and Krillin went to Goku's house to evacuate him from the premises, and boards Yamcha's airship. As they make their way to Kame House , Trunks suggests that he go even farther back in time using his Time Machine and destroy the androids before they are activated, since they now know where Dr. Gero's Lab was. Yamcha thinks this is a good plan, but Krillin asks if he can get back to the future after going further into the past, as the Time Machine takes a long time to charge up. Gohan asks if the current androids would simply disappear, and Trunks realizes that only the timeline he would travel to would be affected. Krillin is confused, and Trunks explains that each trip to the past creates new futures; using their situation as an example. Yamcha and Krillin then ask what the point of his trip to their timeline was, and Trunks says that he was hoping to find the androids' weakness or bring Goku to his timeline. He notes that this timeline is different, and Gohan asks why. Trunks says he does not know, but Chi-Chi says not to worry, as his trip has saved Goku's life. The others agree that things will turn out for the best. Main article: Cell Saga. As they fly, Krillin calls Bulma who then relates to Trunks how a farmer found a strange Capsule Corporation vehicle out in the wilderness, and asked for the company's help to operate it. Bulma says that they did not recognize the man's description, so they asked for a photo, and that the vehicle is in fact Future Trunks' Time Machine, only wrecked. Trunks is stunned, saying that he has his Time Machine with him in capsule form. Bulma tells Trunks that the Time Machine in the photo is covered with moss and looks old, and asks how many she made in the future. Trunks says that she was barely able to make one, and Bulma decides to fax Trunks the picture. She does so, the picture shows Trunks' Time Machine damaged and covered in moss, which stuns Trunks. Krillin asks Bulma for the machine's exact location, and Bulma tells him the coordinates. Trunks says that he is going, as he must see the machine with his own eyes. Bulma agrees to meet him there, as it is close to Capsule Corporation. Yamcha asks Trunks if he is sure that there is only one Time Machine, and Trunks replies that he is. Gohan offers to accompany Trunks, who gladly says that he can. As they fly to meet Bulma, Gohan asks Trunks how badly his world has been devastated. Trunks tells him that the population is in the tens of thousands and that they are forced live in underground shelters. Gohan says that he hopes Trunks can find the Androids weakness, and Trunks begins to think out loud about what it might be. He concludes that Dr. Gero must have had some sort of emergency off switch to control the androids due to their power, or else he would not have activated them again. Gohan says that this must be the case, and Trunks says the he hopes so. They then arrive at the specified location, and quickly find the Time Machine. Bulma then arrives, and Trunks brings out his Time Machine to show her. Trunks tells her that she only made one Time Machine in the future, yet the damaged one is also his. He then uncovers a message saying 'HOPE! Trunks and Gohan fly up to the top of the machine, and Gohan notices that the cockpit window has been melted through from the inside. Seeing this, Trunks decides to open the window, and does so. He notices two halves of something inside, which Bulma says look like an egg. Gohan wonders if what was in the egg made the hole in the window. Noticing that the Time Machine still has a bit of power, Trunks turns it on and discovers that it came from the year Age , three years after his first trip. He also finds out that the machine has been there for four years, a full year before he defeated Frieza and King Cold , and wonders if this is why history has changed so much. Trunks says that they cannot leave the second Time Machine where it is, so he puts it into capsule form, then does the same with his. Bulma takes the two eggshells that they found in the Time Machine, and Gohan informs her that they are heading to Kame House. Gohan then notices something, and goes over to look at it, quickly calling Bulma and Trunks to come as well. When they arrive, they see what appears to be a giant husk left behind by a molting insect. Trunks suggests that the insect is what came out of the egg in the Time Machine, and notices that the husk is still gooey, meaning that the insect molted recently. As he and Gohan fly to Kame House, Trunks thinks to himself that none of this makes sense. As soon as the pair arrive at Kame House, they watch the news broadcast at the behest of Krillin. The reporter says that the population of Gingertown mysteriously vanished and all that remains are the residents abandoned clothes. The reporter goes on to say that the residents seemed to have been fighting something off. Trunks believes that whatever hatched from the egg they found is causing the problems in Gingertown. Although Yamcha and Krillin urge him not to, he decides to go investigate. When Cell powers up during his confrontation with Piccolo, all of the Z Fighters feel his power and identify it as the energy of Goku, Vegeta, Piccolo, Frieza, and King Cold radiating from a single point. As he flies towards Gingertown, Trunks sees Krillin flying after him. Krillin tells Trunks that even though he has Saiyan blood, they don't know anything about the Gingertown monster and couldn't let him face it by himself. Trunks says that he senses another powerful ki, but does not know whose it is. Krillin quickly recognizes it as Piccolo's, and says that he must have merged. Trunks is surprised, and asks if Krillin means merging with Kami. Krillin says yes, and notes that Piccolo was already powerful beforehand. Trunks is surprised at the difference made by the fusion. Suddenly, Trunks and Krillin feel a massive shockwave. Trunks wonders what happened, and Krillin notes that an explosion is visible from where they are. Trunks concludes that Piccolo must have begun battling with the monster. When Trunks and Krillin reach Gingertown, they find Piccolo engaged in combat with the creature. Trunks is left in complete awe and shock at the creature's appearance, as he remembers the egg he, his mother, Bulma, and Gohan had found earlier, which Cell must have developed and hatched from. Cell soon escapes using the Solar Flare technique, much to Piccolo's anger. When Vegeta and Tien arrive at the battlefield, Piccolo explains Cell's origins and plan to everyone. Trunks was shocked to learn of another android, who is a more dangerous threat. Krillin says that they will have to go find him, but Trunks wonders if they can, noting that Cell will most likely absorb innocent people and then run away with his ki suppressed. Undaunted, Vegeta declares that he will ascend beyond a Super Saiyan and defeat the androids himself before leaving. Krillin asks Trunks if he is correct in believing that traveling to the past and destroying the androids would change nothing in their timeline. Trunks confirms this, but says that they should destroy the Present Cell in this timeline to prevent another Cell from appearing. Piccolo instructs the pair to do that while he and Tien search for Cell. Krillin and Trunks quickly reach the lab's location, and after some brief searching find a hole down to the lab's basement. They discover Dr. Gero's Supercomputer along with Present Cell in his larval form. Just as Krillin is about to destroy the basement, Trunks finds blueprints for Android He decides to take them to his mother, who might figure out a weakness in the Androids design, and the pair destroy the rest of the laboratory. As they fly away, Future Trunks asks Krillin to take the blueprints to Bulma, saying that he is going to train with Vegeta. Krillin says that Vegeta will most likely refuse. Future Trunks says he does not want to train with a monster like Vegeta, but that he will realize that training together is more efficient than doing it by himself. Trunks and Krillin wish each other safe travels and part ways. Three days later, a now healthy Goku and Gohan teleport to where Vegeta and Trunks are training. They see Trunks sitting by himself while Vegeta stands alone on a ledge. Trunks is happy Goku is back while Goku asks Trunks how has their training progressed. Trunks says that his father will not train with him, viewing him as a nuisance, and has simply stood on the ledge for the past three days. Goku approaches Vegeta and tells him about the Hyperbolic Time Chamber and how it could help them surpass Cell and the androids, piquing Vegeta's interest. Vegeta agrees to go in with Trunks as long as they can use it first, which Goku agrees with. On The Lookout, Vegeta and Trunks enter the chamber, and Trunks immediately notes that the room is hot, with thin air and high gravity. He is taken aback by the room's vast amount of sheer nothingness, and says that it would drive anyone insane. Vegeta says that the room is perfect, and Trunks wonders if he can stand a year alone with his father. Trunks apologizes for keeping everyone waiting. Goku remarks that he and Vegeta took a long time. Trunks states that Vegeta surpassed the Super Saiyan form within two months, but, unsatisfied with his power, he continued training. Vegeta cuts off Trunks and tells him not to say any more. Bulma arrives at The Lookout and after noticing that Trunks has suddenly grown taller and his hair has grown out, gives them all battle suits that she had made. Just before Vegeta and Trunks head off to face Cell, Goku gives him a few Senzu beans and tells Trunks to do his best. Soon, Trunks arrives on the island where Vegeta confronts Cell. Cell notes the presence of Future Trunks, saying that the number of opponents does not matter, and that he can wait for more of Vegeta's allies to show up. Vegeta tells Cell that Trunks is nothing but a spectator, and that he alone should suffice to kill him. As Vegeta soundly trounces Cell with his newly acquired power, Cell yells in frustration, saying that if he could only achieve his Perfect Form, Vegeta would be no match for him. Intrigued, Vegeta tells Cell to go and obtain his Perfect Form but as Cell goes to leave, however, Trunks transforms into a Super Saiyan and cuts him off. Vegeta tells Trunks to stop interfering, but he refuses. Cell yells at Vegeta to do something about Trunks, but then spots Android 18 and Android 16 and realizes his perfect form is now within his reach. Trunks looks over at what Cell is looking at, then he spots Android 18 as well, and Krillin is with them. He realizes they do not know Cell has noticed them, and screams out "Hey! Cell has found you! Android 18, Android 16 and Krillin all panic, and Cell flies toward them. Trunks says he will not let him reach his perfect form, then transforms into the Super Saiyan Second Grade form like Vegeta and follows Cell. Vegeta thinks it is lucky the androids were here, and then tells Trunks he will not let him interfere. Trunks almost reaches Cell, but Vegeta kicks Trunks away into a nearby mountain. Trunks gets up from the rubble and tells his father that he is making a mistake and they can not let Cell reach his perfect form because he might surpass them. Vegeta asks Trunks if he wants to see how strong Cell will get, and he says not at all and he doesn't want another hellish future. Trunks says even if he has to defeat his father, he will stop Cell from reaching his perfect form. Vegeta doubts Trunks can bring himself to attack his own father and says that he is bluffing. With everyone distracted, Cell opens his tail up and absorbs Android 18, finally transforming into his perfect form. Vegeta watches Cell's transformation in anticipation, while the other three look on in fear and consternation. Trunks, angry at his father, decides to beat down Cell while he still has a chance and charges at Cell. However, Cell creates an Energy Field around himself, which prevents his transformation from being interrupted. Suddenly, Cell's barrier flashes blindingly bright and explodes. Smoke flies around the cringing fighters and Cell emerges from the dust in his new form. Krillin glares at Cell and calls him a monster for absorbing Android in his rage, and ignoring Trunks' warning, Krillin attacks Cell, who isn't harmed in the slightest. Cell punches the air a few times to test his strength, and with a smile, he turns around effortlessly kicks Krillin in the face, sending him flying and nearly killing him. Trunks immediately rushes to save his comrade's life with a Senzu Bean. After eating the Senzu Bean, Krillin warns Trunks that Vegeta stands no chance against Cell, and that he will easily be killed. Trunks questions how he knows this, and Krillin explains that while he may not be nearly as strong as a Saiyan, he can sense exactly how strong someone is, and states Cell's kick was nothing more than a light tap. Krillin also exclaims that Cell is hiding much of his power, and he will not need to use it all in his fight. As Trunks looks in concern, Krillin also states that he knows Trunks is hiding massive power himself, perhaps by breaking a barrier of Super Saiyan that Vegeta could not reach. Trunks explains that while both he and Vegeta surpassed the regular Super Saiyan form in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber, he went a step further which Vegeta did not notice. Trunks also states he could never tell his father of this, as the information would shatter his pride, knowing he has been surpassed once again. Trunks then gets angry and knows Vegeta should have finished off Cell when he had the chance. After watching Cell effortlessly dominate Vegeta, Krillin tells Trunks to help his father with his latent power, otherwise he will be killed, but Trunks states Vegeta would rather be brutally broken and killed than be saved in battle. Reluctantly, Trunks decides to stay put until Cell knocks Vegeta unconscious. Desperate to kill Cell, Vegeta resorts to using his ultimate attack: Final Flash. While charging it, Vegeta challenges Cell to take the attack head-on, and Cell arrogantly accepts. Trunks immediately tries to convince his father otherwise, as the super-charged blast could destroy the Earth, but Vegeta still proceeds. Krillin, realizing the power of the blast, yells at Trunks to get back. As Vegeta fires the blast, Cell realizes at the last moment that it might be too powerful for even him to withstand before taking the full brunt of the attack. At the last second, Vegeta weakened his attack to avoid destroying the Earth, much to Krillin and Trunks' relief. Cell managed to survive the blast, however, it vaporized everything to the right side above his torso. Though Vegeta believes himself to be victorious, Cell proves otherwise; his cells from Frieza allow him to survive and function with virtually any wound and those of Piccolo allow him to regenerate from the damage instantly. After regrowing his arm, Cell prepares to end his battle with Vegeta. In desperation, Vegeta fires a barrage of Ki Blasts, but Cell unflinchingly walks through them and sends Vegeta flying with a punch. Vegeta struggles to his feet, only for Cell to kick him into the air, then follow up with an elbow smash to his back, driving him into the ground and knocking him unconscious. As Cell prepares to kill Vegeta, Krillin yells at Trunks that now's the time to step in. Trunks begins powering up, transforming into his Super Saiyan Third Grade form, which distracts Cell's attention from finishing off Vegeta. Both Cell and Krillin are amazed at how powerful Trunks has become now. Krillin asks Trunks why doesn't he keep the bean for himself and Trunks boldly states that he won't need them. Trunks then descends to face Cell, who's impressed by how much power he had buried in him. What you androids did to my world was all too real. And I promise that will not be repeated here! Trunks' Power Unleashed! Trunks is the second Saiyan to take on Perfect Cell with the intention of destroying him. At first, Cell has the advantage and sends Trunks flying. Suddenly, Trunks looks at Krillin and points towards Vegeta, revealing that he's stalling to lure Cell away from his father. Cell continues the attack on Trunks, but Krillin takes advantage of the opportunity to grab Vegeta and fly him to safety. With Vegeta out of harm's way, Cell asks Trunks if he can now fight freely. Trunks is surprised that Cell knew about his plan and just let Vegeta go. Cell states that he is now more interested in Trunks' power and desires a true challenge. Trunks powers up again, ready to fight seriously. Cell is certainly impressed by Trunks' magnificent power, even greater than his own, but assures him that he will not win the battle. Trunks calls Cell's statement a bluff and charges. Although his power was enough to deal significant damage to Perfect Cell, Trunks simply kept increasing his power, unaware that his speed was greatly decreasing and his energy consumption greatly augmented to a point where sustaining the state would prove to be a problem. His body became too bulky and slow from the large quantity of muscle, and this gave Cell the upper hand, despite not even having powered up and slightly below Trunks in brute strength In the anime, the fight between Future Trunks and Cell is expanded on greatly. A key difference is that in the manga, Future Trunks with his Super Saiyan Third Grade form never once hit Cell whereas in the anime, he hits him many times before slowing down. Unaware of his form's weakness, Trunks is baffled, wondering why he can't hit Cell despite all his power. Cell taunts him for relying only on brute force, then transforms into a bulky Powerhouse form of his own the result of Cell taking on the Super Saiyan Third Grade form as well to mockingly demonstrate that anyone can take on such a form and explains that without speed, the transformation is useless. Trunks reverts to his base form and tells Cell to kill him, since he has no chance now and has lost the will to fight. However, Cell is impressed that Vegeta and Trunks had improved so significantly in a short amount of time, and asks how it was possible. Naturally, Trunks refuses to answer Cell's question to prevent him from discovering the Hyperbolic Time Chamber. Realizing he won't answer that particular question, Cell instead asks Trunks that if he had more time, could he get even stronger. Trunks replies that he won't know until he tries. Cell then asks what Goku is doing, and Trunks answers that he's training to defeat him and by tomorrow, Goku will be the one to finally kill the Bio-Android. Cell is pleased by this answer, and proposes to hold a martial arts tournament in ten days. He challenges Trunks to gather his allies and get stronger so they can compete against him in one-on-one fights. Cell says that once he has decided the location for the tournament, he will broadcast it on television and turns to leave before mockingly telling Trunks to bring plenty of Senzu Beans. Trunks is confused, wondering what Cell's goal is now. Cell states that it was to kill Goku, but now he wants to test the limits of his perfect form and simply enjoy himself, mostly by causing utter terror for people of Earth. After Trunks expresses horror at this, Cell comments on that's the look he wants. He then flies away just as Krillin and Vegeta arrive. Trunks tells Krillin and Vegeta about Cell's plan, which annoys Vegeta, thinking Cell is toying with them. Trunks says that after Goku and Gohan leave the Hyperbolic Time Chamber he will go back in and train. Stubborn and arrogant as ever, Vegeta says he won't need Trunks or Goku and after he goes back in the Time Chamber, he will defeat Perfect Cell on his own. At that moment, the damaged Android 16 arrives, wanting to compete in the tournament as well, but first asks to be taken to Capsule Corporation so he can get repaired. Trunks adamantly refuses to help or trust 16 because he is an android who wanted kill Goku and he doesn't want to endanger his mother's life, but Krillin agrees to take the android, knowing they'll need all the help they can get against Cell, and that these androids aren't as bad as the ones from Trunks' future. The next day, Trunks and his family keep a close eye on the TV, looking out for Cell's announcement. Suddenly, Cell interrupts a live broadcast and proceeds to tell the world about the upcoming Cell Games tournament, and challenges all the greatest fighters in the world to compete against him in one-on-one fights. Vegeta announces that he's going to train in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber again and Trunks decides to go with him. However, Bulma wants to give Trunks a haircut first, so his long hair doesn't get in his eyes, much to Vegeta's irritation. Trunks asks Mr. Popo how much time they have left, who replies that only three hours remain. Vegeta, however, is anxious and ready to go back in the chamber, but Piccolo tells him that he should rest because its his turn next. Vegeta believes that only a Saiyan has any hope of killing Cell, buts relents and says that he will spend the remaining 8 days in the chamber. Piccolo and Mr. Popo warn him that a person can only use the chamber for two days or two years at a time; if anybody attempts to stay longer, they will not be able to exit, leaving them trapped in nothingness and not allowing anyone else to use the door. Vegeta is disappointed, but Trunks optimistically says that at least they will have plenty of time to train. Suddenly, everyone senses Goku and Gohan's energy, which means that they finished their training early. With their Battle Armor all tattered and damaged, Goku and Gohan emerge out as Super Saiyans , to everyone's surprise. Trunks tells them everything that happened while they were training, from Cell's completion to the announcement of the Cell Games. Instead of being worried, Goku is excited that he can compete in another tournament and asks Mr. Popo to bring him his Turtle School uniform. Trunks offers to give Goku new armor, but he declines, stating that he wants to fights as an Earthling. Gohan asks Piccolo to give him clothes like the one he wears, so the Namekian uses his Magic Materialization to give the boy Demon Clothes. Vegeta asks Goku whether he can beat Cell or not, but Goku says that he won't know until he see the Bio-Android's perfect form. When he returns, Trunks asks Goku if he can beat Cell. Goku admits that he wouldn't stand a chance. Piccolo implores him and Gohan to use the Hyperbolic Time Chamber again, but Goku says that he and Gohan will train in the outside world, to Piccolo's surprise. Afterwards, Trunks is lectured on how Goku and Gohan mastered Super Saiyan to decrease strain of transforming, as Trunks is amazed that he didn't think to master it. The next day, Vegeta anxiously and impatiently awaits for Piccolo to finish up his training inside of the Hyperbolic Time Chamber. When he finally does, Trunks recognizes how significantly Piccolo's strength has increased, yet, Vegeta mocks the Namekian for even entering the chamber in the first place saying that he has stayed the same. While Dende talks to Gohan and Krillin, Trunks asks Goku that if he is so calm now, its because he has found Cell's weakness. However, Goku doesn't think Cell has a weakness, much to Trunks' confusion. Also, Goku tells Gohan to stay with Dende, and that he doesn't have to train anymore until the Cell Games. Gohan is surprised, but Goku reassures him before teleporting away. Trunks asks Gohan what Goku is planning, and why he's so confident knowing that Cell is stronger than him. Gohan doesn't know what's going on either. Krillin thinks Goku has a plan, but Piccolo suggests he's already accepted defeat. After ten days, the day of the Cell Games finally arrived. All seven warriors arrive at the Cell Games arena, and are joined by the already present Vegeta and Android Goku volunteers to go first, much to Trunks' confusion, but Krillin suggests they let the clueless, arrogant Mr. Satan go first, not caring if he gets killed and there's no point in explaining the superhuman abilities most Earthlings don't know about. Before he faces Cell, Mr. Satan does a stunt where he stacks fifteen roof tiles and chops through fourteen of them with his bare hand, which leaves Trunks and the others confused. When Mr. Satan finally attacks Cell, he is easily, and unsurprisingly, sent flying into a nearby mountain, but miraculously survives. With Mr. Satan having been quickly knocked out of the ring, Goku steps into the Cell Games Arena to face Cell, as the rest of the Dragon Team watch anxiously from the sidelines. Cell says that he had hoped to save the best for last, but there is nothing he can do. The two assume their fighting poses, and Trunks thinks that they will all finally see why Goku has been so calm in the days before the tournament. Goku and Cell partake in an intense bout that leaves both combatants exhausted in the process. Cell tells Goku that his strength is decreasing, and says he can have a Senzu Bean if he wants, that way, they can continue their great fight. Trunks yells at Krillin to do like he says and give Goku a Senzu Bean, and if they all attack Cell together, then he will definitely win. Vegeta yells at Trunks to shut up, saying he has no Saiyan pride as Goku neither asked for help nor does he want it. Vegeta believes that Goku would rather die than win like that, and right now, he isn't even fighting for the Earth's sake. Trunks says that Goku won't last much longer and Vegeta agrees that he will probably be killed by Cell. Trunks asks what are they supposed to do, be quiet and watch. Vegeta says all they can do now is hope Goku has a secret plan, like Trunks suggested. However, Goku admits that Cell still has strength to spare and he cannot defeat him, so in a surprising turn of events, Goku says that he gives up, which leaves everyone shocked, including Cell and calls forth his son Gohan to take over. In an attempt to bring out Gohan's true power, Trunks is forced to contend with Cell's offspring along with the other heroes, slowly and gradually losing the fight. Meanwhile, Android 16 encourages Gohan to set his rage free and to not hold back in order to protect the wild animals and the forests he loved. Cell, however, finally has enough, and smashes Android 16's head, killing him off for good. Witnessing the peaceful android's death finally pushes Gohan over the edge and his hidden power erupts, transforming him into a Super Saiyan 2 , shocking everyone present. First, Gohan takes back the stolen bag of Senzu Beans from Cell and then effortlessly defeats the Cell Juniors with simple, yet powerful blows. Afterwards, Gohan gives an awestruck Trunks the bag of Senzu Beans to treat to the fallen Z Fighters and heal their wounds while he faces Cell. After giving Krillin a Senzu Bean, Trunks says that they need to get farther away from the battle. Despite his best efforts, Cell is no match for Gohan's new power, and ultimately, the boy forces him to regurgitate Android Weakened and desperate, Cell pumps himself up like a balloon to self destruct, threatening to take the Earth along with him in a final attempt to kill Gohan. Goku sacrifices himself by teleporting both himself and Cell to King Kai's Planet where he promptly explodes. However, Cell survives and upon his reappearance, Cell impales Future Trunks through the chest with a Full Power Death Beam , mortally wounding him while the Funimation dub states that this was intentional, the original version implies that he was just firing randomly, as evidenced by the line "Who was it that I hit? As Cell boasts that he is better than ever, Vegeta is still stunned by Future Trunks' injuries. While Gohan prepares to fight Cell again, Trunks uses up the last of his life energy to vomit up blood. Yamcha and Tien Shinhan rush over to aid him, only to realize he had died that moment. This act causes a drastic change in Vegeta, who becomes enraged that someone who cared about him has been killed and reveals his affection for his son. Vegeta then gives everything he can give to try and take down Super Perfect Cell although he fails and is overwhelmed by Cell's power, who takes all his attacks without a scratch and severely cripples him with a halfhearted blow, preparing to kill him like he did Trunks only to have Gohan shield him, but at the cost of the use of his left arm. Future Trunks flashing a sign of respect to his father Vegeta, before going back to the future. After Cell's defeat, the deceased Future Trunks is taken to The Lookout where he is revived by Shenron , along with everyone else killed by Cell. However, Goku isn't resurrected, because he had already been brought back to life by the Dragon Balls before. Goku, speaking through King Kai, tells them that the world will be better off if he remains in the afterlife, because his presence seems to attract bad guys. He leaves the protection of the Earth to the much stronger Gohan, and says a final goodbye to everyone. For their second wish, Krillin asks Shenron to turn Androids 17 and 18 into humans. Shenron denies the wish, saying it is beyond his power. Krillin then wishes for the bombs in the Androids to be removed. Shenron grants the wish and disappears. Trunks asks why Krillin would wish for that, and Krillin answers that he felt bad for them, having to go through life with a bomb in their bodies. Tien decides to leave, since Chiaotzu is likely worried about him. He tells the others they may never meet again, and wishes Trunks luck against the androids in the future before leaving. The rest of the group go their separate ways as well, with Trunks declaring that he plans to return to the future tomorrow. As they fly to Capsule Corporation, Yamcha mentions how Vegeta reacted to his death, which makes Trunks become shockingly proud of his father. After the celebrations for Cell's long-waited defeat, Trunks give Bulma the Time Machine which Cell use to came to that era [16] and Vegeta acknowledges Trunks while he says his goodbyes. What about the others? The ones that you two killed? The Spirit of Goku is Forever! After saying his goodbyes, Trunks returns to his own time to exact revenge on the androids for murdering the Z Fighters. After reuniting with his mother, Bulma, Trunks hears a news update on the location of the androids and he quickly powers up into his Super Saiyan form, now greatly augmented by his two years of training in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber. At Parsley City , the Androids are about to kill another innocent man in the manga he is killed before Trunks' arrival by being shot in the face by 17 , when suddenly Trunks hurtles a very accurate energy attack which narrowly misses The cocky androids foolishly underestimate Trunks and try to rush him. Trunks easily dodges their attacks and punishes them duly, obliterating 18 in a point-blank energy blast. The completely unscathed Trunks returns home since everything now seems at peace with the Earth, except he knows one thing remains: Cell who is likely around in his world. Three years pass before the determined Bio-Android roams around in his Imperfect form, looking for the now nonexistent androids and comes across Trunks and Bulma saying their goodbyes near the time machine. Trunks is age 23 at the time. As Trunks is about to leave for the past one final time to inform them of his success, he senses Cell and sends his mother away. He turns towards Cell and begins to taunt him with his knowledge from the alternate past. He informs him that he has killed the androids from the current time. The cocky Cell approaches the half-Saiyan under the false impression that Trunks is still at the level of power when he initially went back in time and warned Goku, even weaker than the future Androids who are in turn inferior to Cell's strength by a long shot. However, Trunks reveals he destroyed the androids while Cell was angry, he realized that he could use the time machine to go back and absorb them but Trunks attacks him. The fight begins and Cell is clearly outclassed as Trunks hurls him outside of the city with a simple energy wave in his base state. Once outside West City , Trunks then transforms into a Super Saiyan and then proceeds to clobber Cell with great ease. When declaring that Cell must die, Cell gets enraged and launches his tail at Trunks. Trunks takes action by grabbing Cell's tail and swinging him around in a circle, building up momentum, and then hurling him high into the air. Cell realizes that he has no hope against the new powers of Trunks, and prepares a Kamehameha large enough to destroy the planet, knowing all too well that he could survive in space. Cell begins the attack but is interrupted when Trunks powers up and unleashes a massive destructive wave of energy which incinerates Cell completely. With the future finally at peace, Trunks is seen looking towards the sky while thanking Goku and his friends in the past one last time. Several years later, Trunks was invited to the Sacred World of the Kai by Shin to train in preparation for Babidi 's arrival. He successfully pulled out the Z Sword and trained with it to increase his strength. Shin and Kibito were both impressed that he was able to master the Z Sword and so Shin decided to finalize his training by testing its sharpness by cutting a block of Katchin , the hardest metal in the universe. Before Shin could throw the block to Trunks, Kibito sensed Babidi's movements and so they then went to Earth and Trunks requested for his clothes to return to normal. After they reach Earth they managed to take out Pui Pui and Yakon. As he was fighting him, Dabura spits on the Z Sword, and as it was being turned into stone, Shin demanded Trunks to release the sword. As Trunks released the sword, it was completely turned to stone and broke when it fell to the ground, where Dabura burned it with his fire breath. Afterwards, Dabura delivered a strike to Trunks but Trunks held his blade until he was pushed back. Shin stated that he miscalculated Babidi having the ability to have Dabura as his servant and declared that he will prevent Majin Buu's revival as he charged at Babidi. However, Shin was attacked by Dabura and seeing this, Kibito attempted to assist Shin but Dabura blasted him. Shin was being tortured by Babidi and seeing this, Trunks out of anger transformed into Super Saiyan 2 and fiercely attacked Dabura. While Dabura was defending Babidi, Trunks delivered a powerful kick to Dabura and the impact managed to kill Babidi. Dabura was about to use his spear and throw it at Trunks, but Shin paralyzed Dabura and Trunks was able to kill him with a Burning Attack. Shin was glad that the world was at peace, then he perished. In the anime, Future Trunks had become much stronger and was able to take on Dabura thanks to instructions he received from Shin. Main article: Golden Frieza Saga In the anime, while not seen in the present timeline Future Trunks appeared in a flashback killing Frieza when Shenron mention Frieza's death to Sorbet. He would later be mentioned by Bulma as one of the two Saiyans that defeated Frieza. Later when Gotenks showed up and attacked Tagoma and defused. When Frieza first looked at Trunks it reminded him of Future Trunks. Main article: "Future" Trunks Saga. Several years after killing Future Dabura and Future Babidi, and nine years after the fall of the Future Cell, Now Age an enigmatic man named Black goes berserk and causes humanity to be on the brink of extinction. Trunks attempts to stop Black, but fails. Bulma suggests that they should receive help from Goku and Vegeta in the past. Six months later, Bulma gathers enough fuel for a one-way trip to the past for the Time Machine , when all of a sudden, Black gets in their way. Future Trunks shields his mother when Black destroys the lab. Future Trunks is shocked to see that Black has Future Bulma. Future Bulma then tells him to go on without her, and that getting back to the past is the highest priority. Black then fires another ki blast, destroying the lab and Future Bulma, much to his horror. He then shakes it off and runs to find Future Mai, knowing that getting back to the past is their highest priority. Trunks goes to search for Mai , and he is concerned at first when he knocks at her door and gets no answer, yet is relieved when he sees her. Mai asks where Bulma is, then is saddened when she realizes her death by the hands of Black, with Trunks crying over his loss. Trunks reignites the hope of going back to the past as he shows Mai the energy that Bulma sacrificed her life to get, further stating they can go back to the past. Trunks and Mai are seen in the room. Mai asks him if he wants to rest, yet he declines. Mai offers him a can of meat yet declines, as they saw a kitten walk by and they feed him. Trunks then offers half of the can of meat to Mai. Though reluctant, Mai eats up her fill. After she finishes eating, Trunks tells her that they only have enough energy to make a one way trip. They then prepare to leave to Capsule Corporation, and they both see the kitten leave, and that puts a smile on their face, and they run to Capsule Corporation. However, as they approached the building, Black suddenly descends into the scene. He tells Mai to go ahead of him, giving her the energy and drawing his sword as he rushes in to engage Black. In a short skirmish, Trunks was outstripped by Black's unknown powers, and Mai rushed to his head. She volunteered herself as the decoy, telling him he was the one who needed to survive, and winded up critically injured by Black. Holding her unconscious body, Trunks was furious as Black descended and told him the day for him to die has arrived. Clutching Mai's hand, Trunks started to think quick. However, infuriated by Black's goading of Mai's presumed death, he rushed Black head-on, and the two engaged in a fierce battle. Pushed to the edge, he uses his sword to stop a ki blast from Black, and blinds him with a Masenko. Trunks managed to flee to his time machine, and escaped from the future just in time, narrowly avoiding Black's Kamehameha. Future Trunks manages to escape from Black and get the time machine 16 years into the past traveling from Age to Age , where his time machine is found by a woman and he is located unconscious inside by his present counterpart. He is then rushed onto a gurney, where Trunks gets to see him, and is shocked by Future Trunks' arrival. He is then with Bulma , Vegeta , Goku , and Trunks, where they see him in his current state, much to their corresponding concern. Trunks eventually wakes up. Future Trunks suddenly rushes out of his bed and attempts to attack Goku in anger, much to Goku's confusion. However, Goku halts Future Trunks' attack by grabbing his arm before the attack could land. Future Trunks is snapped out of his trance and learns that Goku was revived long after he returned to future. Future Trunks then meets his Present counterpart who is surprised to meet him before he goes to retrieve his sword, catching sight of present-day Mai in the process. Bulma later explains the Time Machine to everyone as Future Trunks tells his counterpart they really first met when the latter was a baby. Future Trunks then meets Beerus and Whis learning they come from the world of the gods and that time travel is forbidden enough to permit death as Bulma argues with them. Knowing his mother's attitude means trouble, Trunks begs Whis who he mistakes as the God until the latter points out Beerus with Trunks learning he is the God of Destruction. Trunks begs Beerus for forgiveness and he lets it slide after Bulma gives him delicious food. Future Trunks is later asked why he time travelled as he talks about a new enemy, when asked if it was Majin Buu , he tells them he prevented the villain's hatching. He soon explains the reason why he attacked Goku as the enemy he is facing looks exactly like him and explains what happened to the Future because of him even revealing that Future Bulma was killed by the man they have named Goku Black. Goku, curious to how strong Future Trunks is, asks to have a sparring match with him. Future Trunks accepts and powers up to Super Saiyan 2. Bulma, fearing for the city, erects a barrier around them so they can fight in peace. Fully powered up, Future Trunks, as a Super Saiyan 2 attacks with his sword. The force from the blow shatters the barrier but Goku as a Super Saiyan 3 caught the blade without much effort then proceeded to overpower the young Saiyan. Goku helps Future Trunks to his feet and tells him that he is impressed with his power and is amazed that he was able to get so far on his own. Future Trunks is then greeted by Krillin and Piccolo , who ask if something happened in the future. In the anime only, a sudden thunderstorm appears, and Black appears through a portal, which shocks Future Trunks. Future Trunks becomes enraged by Black's appearance in the past and he is ready to fight but is stopped by Vegeta. He watches the fight between Super Saiyan 2 Goku and Black and he wonders why Goku doesn't go all out, and Vegeta explains about Goku's bad habit of not fighting seriously in the beginning. When the fight ends, Black is sucked back into the future, but not before Black destroys the Time Machine. With the Time Machine destroyed, Future Trunks is stranded in the past with no way back to his timeline. Bulma then found a capsule and opens it, revealing the Time Machine that Cell came in from the future. Bulma revealed that before Future Trunks went back to the future after Cell's defeat he gave that capsule to Bulma, and Bulma placed it away and forgot about it over the years. Future Trunks then meets present day Mai and tells her about her future counterpart. He tells her about her future counterpart and how she was the leader of the resistance against Black. Goku then interrupts the story saying that Future Trunks should rest since he's been pushing himself ever since he got to the present timeline. Future Trunks then takes a nap, but has a nightmare about Black so he wakes up and checks on the progress of the Time Machine, and Bulma says she already has the fuel for the Time Machine, much to Future Trunks' surprise. He then goes outside where Krillin and Piccolo are cleaning up the mess from the battle and asks them where Gohan is, thinking maybe he should take Gohan to the future as well. Piccolo disagrees with Trunks, because Gohan was not as strong as he used to be, and told Future Trunks he "wasn't the same Gohan he knew". In the anime, Future Trunks then visits Gohan during his conference, and they have ice cream together, while Future Trunks is somewhat shocked and slightly disappointed with Gohan's current power, and feels like he can't recognize him at all. Gohan invites him to meet his family, and they travel to Gohan's house, where Future Trunks meets Videl , Mr. Satan and Gohan's daughter, Pan. While Future Trunks waits for Gohan to finish his work, and Videl to prepare dinner, he babysits Pan, and wonders why is he there doing nothing, and Pan begins a tug-of-war with Future Trunks over his sword, until Gohan arrives to stop Pan. Future Trunks and Gohan then go outside with Pan, and they begin to talk about how Gohan should be stricter with Pan, but can't help himself as he gets "soft" whenever he looks at her. After Future Trunks sees Gohan playing with Pan, he has a vision of how his future would've been if Black hadn't shown up, and realizes the reason why he has to fight Black; in order to allow the people of his future to live happily like Gohan and his family, and is finally able to lighten up after the traumatic events he witnessed. Upon arrival back at Capsule Corp Future Trunks bumps into Krillin and talks for a while and Krillin nervously wants to introduce Trunks to his wife and child to which Future Trunks is excited to meet, a figure stumbles upon them, and it turned out to be Android 18, his former adversary, from his timeline, upon seeing Android 18, Future Trunks instantly recognizes her, calls out her name, and prepares to draw his sword, ready to attack her thinking she is evil but Krillin stops him and says that Android 18 is his wife. Initially, Future Trunks is both shocked and confused, however, Android 18 reveals she even has a child with Krillin which surprises Future Trunks even more apparently unaware that despite being an "android", Android 18 can produce an offspring , Android 18 approaches him and gives Future Trunks a friendly fist, to his anxiety Android 18 tells Future Trunks that she heard about him destroying her future timeline counterpart , and demands Future Trunks to pay, but Android 18 is just joking and rejoins Krillin and their daughter, to his slight relief, Future Trunks looks at Android 18 happy together with her family with an awkward look on his face, and goes on to check on his mother. Vegeta simply laughs and goes Super Saiyan Blue , which confuses Trunks initially, but Trunks is quickly able to figure out that the Super Saiyan Blue form has godly energy and also figures out Goku uses this form as well and believes that Black can easily be stopped if Goku and Vegeta fight him together. Vegeta begins to mock Trunks and makes a bet with Trunks: if Trunks could land a hit on him, Vegeta would forfeit and award the victory to Trunks. Trunks responds by transforming into Super Saiyan Third Grade while Super Saiyan 2 for a massive power boost which Vegeta mocks and calls a primitive transformation and charges Trunks rapidly moving around him trying to confuse him. However, Future Trunks is able to follow his father and at the last moment power back down to Super Saiyan 2 and counterattacks and begins to actually push back Super Saiyan Blue Vegeta with Vegeta realizing Future Trunks lured him in with the form. Vegeta is quickly able to regain the upper hand and begins to attack, with Trunks able to hold his own for a time but is eventually kicked through the forest and into a cliff as Goku and Bulma arrive via Instant Transmission. Future Trunks appears to have been beaten and power back down to base form, with Vegeta lifts Future Trunks by his shirt and begins mocking Future Trunks more and telling him that his goal should be to become the strongest in the universe and not just beat Black. Bulma attempts to move in to stop Vegeta but Goku stops her and says it's not over yet. Vegeta lowers his guard thinking he has won but Future Trunks springs to life and reveals he isn't hurt at all and headbutts Vegeta to the ground. Future Trunks begins to laugh at Vegeta and proclaims his victory over him, offering to help him up but Vegeta refuses and storms off. Future Trunks bows to his father and vows once again to not only defeat Black but to surpass him. These events do not happen in the manga - and as such Black never destroyed Trunks' time machine like he did in the anime. The Z Fighters still have to wait for Future Trunks' time machine to be re-fueled and during this time they play a racing video game, with Future Trunks coming in second. Future Trunks then goes to train with Vegeta in a gravity chamber. Future Trunks tells them that Goku is not Black, and they inform him of Future Mai's survival, and they meet the rest of the other resistance and refugees that survived Black's assault including Future Yajirobe. The trio and Mai then head outside, and the three depart in search of Black. Future Trunks, Goku, and Vegeta, signaled Black to their location. Future Trunks is also shocked to see Future Zamasu and wonders who Goku Black is if the two are not the same person after all. As the two fight with Super Saiyan Blue Goku, Future Trunks joins in the fight, but the two are eventually defeated, after it is revealed Future Zamasu is immortal. By the time they arrive, they fall unconscious. Outside on a swing, Future Trunks felt hopeless and depressed about any chances of saving his timeline, until his younger version tried to snap him out of it by sparring the match was completely off-screen. Future Trunks did appreciate Kid Trunks' attempt to get him to persevere. Goku, Beerus, and Whis return to inform everyone of Zamasu's demise. Future Trunks wasn't entirely convinced and suggests going back to the future to confirm Beerus' theory. Future Trunks tells Kid Trunks that despite them being the same person, they had different lives, he tells the latter about the deaths of Goku, Vegeta, and the others, as well as the Android threat. He also reveals that he is from an alternate timeline and not the actual future. Future Trunks, Vegeta, Goku, and Bulma who decides to tag along this time return to the future, where they are greeted by the resistance and head into the base where the other members and refugees are. Future Trunks learns that Future Mai got injured trying to hold back Black, he immediately rushes over and chews a Senzu Bean to heal her in a CPR fashion , he leaves with Goku and Vegeta to confront Black and Future Zamasu, he and the others were shocked when learning that Black wasn't created by the Super Dragon Balls, but was another Zamasu that stole Goku's body. Enraged at their statements, Future Trunks charges at Black, but is quickly knocked out of his Super Saiyan 2 form and falls to the ground. Consumed by his anger, Future Trunks stand back up and takes on a completely new form never seen before , shocking everyone. As he slowly walks towards Black with an enraged expression, Future Trunks loudly exclaims that he will kill Black. Future Trunks proceeds to battle Black and Future Zamasu, fueled by a blind rage, but they use their teamwork to overwhelm him. However his rage eventually subsides and in his new state, Future Trunks is able to combat both Black and Future Zamasu at the same time. Eventually, Future Trunks lands on the ground and asks Vegeta and the others to escape using the time machine then find a way to defeat Black and Zamasu, while he provides cover fire. Vegeta carries Goku and gives Mai the Senzu beans, while Bulma starts the time machine. Future Trunks manages to prevent Black from destroying the time machine as it disappears, then proceeds to fight against them. Despite his best efforts, Future Trunks is eventually knocked out, but was saved by Mai. Future Trunks quickly devises a plan to separate the immortal Future Zamasu from Black and succeeds, leaving Black to fight Future Trunks in a sword duel. Black mocks Future Trunks' sword as a pathetic tool as he seemingly overwhelms him, but Future Trunks distracts him by throwing his sword before delivering three powerful gut punches followed by a full power Galick Gun. The beam sends Black flying through the forest, through his own hideout and straight into a mountain, where he appears be unconscious. Realizing he only has one last attack in him, Future Trunks pretends to lower his guard before catching Future Zamasu in a lock. He decides that there must be a limit to Future Zamasu's regeneration, and attempts to blow him up in what appears to be a self-destruct attack, however he is stabbed through the back by Black who had recovered from their last encounter. Before a killing blow can be dealt, Goku and Vegeta return from the past and draw Black and Future Zamasu's attention, allowing Future Mai to save Trunks. Future Trunks fixes the jar and proceeded to learned the sealing technique, while Bulma leaves to distract Zamasu in order to buy time. Future Trunks powers up and uses it on him, which seemed successful that is until realizing that Goku forgot the amulet seal. Zamasu had broken free. Trunks and the others watched on as Black and Future Zamasu fused using the Potara earrings. Future Trunks, Goku, and Vegeta prepared themselves against the merged Zamasu. Future Trunks takes on his new super form after seeing Goku and Vegeta defeated, he charges in, but proved little against the dark god's might. Realizing the desire to protect his world and its people, Future Trunks mustered up a lot of his energy to fire a Galick Gun, causing the fused entity to respond with a ki blast of his own. They both collapsed, proud of their seeming victory, but their defiance had only served to enrage Fused Zamasu. After Vegeta took a direct hit from the fused god's Lightning of Judgement, Future Trunks watched as Goku fired a strong Kamehameha wave at the enemy. While watching the battle between Vegito Blue and Fused Zamasu, Future Trunks hears from Gowasu that the fusion of Goku Black and Future Zamasu is unstable; while the body may be immortal, the soul is not, so the Fusion is starting to destroy itself due to the conflict in body and soul. Bulma and Future Mai return with the time machine and what was left of Future Trunks's sword; staring at the blade, Future Trunks begins to hear everyone cheering for him and telling him not to give up. Inspired and with his will to fight returned, Future Trunks channels his ki through his broken blade, generating a long golden blade of energy. Thus rearmed, Future Trunks enters the fight to save the just-unfused Goku and Vegeta from death, engaging Fused Zamasu on his own a humanity's final hope. You don't believe in anything but yourself and we won't let you win! This is the power of mortals fighting for each other. The power of believing in something bigger than just you! The Miraculous Power of Unyielding Warriors ". During the fight, Fused Zamasu mocks Future Trunks and his "mortal weakness", asking him where he will go for help now, the past of the future. Future Trunks tells him he is not ashamed of his "mortal weakness" and he just wants to save everyone. Future Trunks's allies fervently pray for his victory, causing him to unconsciously channel the energy of everyone who is still alive into a large ball of light. Upon noticing the massive orb and realizing what it is, Future Trunks flies into it and absorbs the energy, transforming his blade into a giant greatsword made of the light energy and making him equal to Fused Zamasu. As he calls for everyone to give him their energy, Goku and Vegeta wake up and give their remaining power to Trunks. Now fully engulfed in an aura of light energy, Future Trunks shatters Fused Zamasu's own ki blade before stabbing the formerly immortal god. Defying the mad god's final claim of superiority, Future Trunks uses his empowered blade to slice Fused Zamasu clean in half, destroying his body and ending the crusade of the fallen god once and for all. While everyone congratulated Future Trunks for defeating the crazed entity, Zamasu however was shown to have survived and eschews his physical body to become one with the universe. Future Trunks, Goku, and Vegeta rushed to stop him, but to no avail, and the mad Kaioshin unleashes an onslaught of energy beams from the sky to kill all the remaining Earthlings, with only Future Trunks, Goku, Vegeta, Bulma, Future Mai, Shin, and Gowasu left. Future Trunks and the others watched as Goku used the button to summon Future Zeno , as Gowasu and Shin bowed down, while Future Trunks questioned who he was and is surprised to hear from Bulma he is the most eminent god in the universe. When Goku suggested that Future Zeno erase Zamasu, the latter states he will and decides to destroy the entire future world as well. Hearing this, Goku quickly alerted everyone to run and activate the time machine. The group barely escaped through the time machine as Zeno begins to erase Zamasu along with the future multiverse. Future Trunks and the others arrived back to the present, and tells everyone that his world is no more, he and Goku used the time machine to search for Future Zeno and brought him to the present timeline. Whis and Beerus soon arrived and the former tells Future Trunks that he will go forward in time to warn Future Beerus to destroy Future Zamasu thereby thwarting his ambitions, stating that it will also add another Future Trunks and Future Mai in that timeline. The two future survivors agreed, and prepared to head into the new future timeline where everyone is still alive. Bulma teased the two saying that her future self will soon become a grandmother much to their embarrassment. Future Trunks and Future Mai waved their goodbyes, but before they could board the time machine, Future Trunks is suddenly attacked by Vegeta who was testing his future son's newfound power, and was proud as Future Trunks blocked his attack. As they were about to disappear into the new timeline, Future Trunks is greeted by Piccolo and Gohan the latter's presence causes Future Trunks to tearfully reminisce his memories with Future Gohan, before Gohan's optimistic words caused him to cheer up and look forward to seeing everyone again in the new timeline. In the manga, the story begins with Future Trunks attempting to escape from Black's clutches throughout a ruined city. After narrowly avoiding a large explosion, he is able to make it back to Future Mai in an underground shelter. After giving Trunks some water, Mai asks what happened to Bulma. Trunks sadly says that she was killed when she went outside to clear the dust on their solar panels. Mai comforts the grieving Trunks with a hug and tells him to eat the canned meat she found, and this time, it isn't dog food. As he eats, Trunks says that thanks to his mother, they were able gather enough energy to fully charge the Time Machine, but its only enough for a one-way trip. Trunks offers Mai the rest of the canned meat, but she insists that he should finish eating. Trunks tells Mai that their mission is to survive no matter what it takes. That is what he promise to his mother. Mai then voraciously eats the rest of the meat. Trunks says they should leave for Capsule Corp, Mai asks Trunks why they have to time travel seventeen years into the past. Trunks replies that's when the Time Machine was created and changing that setting would make it impossible to go that particular timeline. Mai remembers that because of the Time Machine, Trunks was able to create a world where everyone is still alive and defeat the Androids of their world, which allowed them to enjoy a time of peace until Black appeared. Trunks remembers that Black knew exacily where he was hiding earlier, so there is a possibility that he can sense ki, something that the warriors of Earth specialize in. Mai realizes that Black can sense her ki too. Trunks hands Mai her shotgun and says that they need to leave, quickly. After emerging from the sewers, Trunks is forced to blast the door open because the lock is broken. Suddenly, Black reveals his presence from a nearby building. Trunks quickly blasts him with an energy wave and they run inside the Capsule Corp. Trunks attempts to hold Black back while Mai makes a break for the Time Machine. However, Trunks is quickly overpowered, and Black says he won't escape this time. Mai steps in firing shots at Black, telling Trunks that he is the one who needs to survive. Black retaliates with a blast, which seemingly kills Mai. Black steps out of the shadows to tell Trunks that he is next. Enraged at the supposed death of Mai, Future Trunks powers up to a Super Saiyan 2 and fires a Masenko at Goku Black, who blocks it, but the force of the blast is enough to push Black outside of the Capsule Corporation building. After Goku Black disperses the blast, Trunks grabs his sword and prepares to attack. Trunks stabs his sword into the ground, and uses it as a foothold to launch himself towards Goku Black to assault him, surprising dark warrior. However, Goku Black easily blocks all of Trunks' attacks, and sends him flying with a ki blast. Trunks grabs his sword to stop himself, and picks it up, throwing the chunk of ground stuck to it towards Goku Black. Goku Black uses Instant Transmission to dodge the attack and elbows Trunks behind the neck, causing him to power down. Goku Black grabs Trunks' sword and prepares to finish him off, but, after remembering the final words of Future Mai and Future Bulma, Trunks distracts Goku Black by hitting him with his sword's sheath, then transforms into a Super Saiyan 2 once again to fire a large ki blast on the ground, propelling himself upward and creating a huge cloud of smoke. While Goku Black is blinded, Trunks retrieves his sword and flies back into the building. Unfortunately, the Time Machine is caught on a large cable, preventing Trunks from leaving. Realizing Trunks is trying to escape, Goku Black fires a Black Kamehameha at him, but Trunks' Time Machine activates at the last moment, dodging the attack. Goku Black is surprised that Future Trunks completely vanished. Future Trunks manages to escape from Black and time travels from Age to Age , where his arrival interrupts a sparring match between Goku and Vegeta. He is located unconscious inside by his present counterpart. Bulma confirms with Trunks that the man inside is someone who looks exactly like him, as she orders Goku to go get a Senzu Bean, which he does. While Bulma and Vegeta are standing over the beaten Future Trunks, Mai, Shu and Pilaf discuss that Trunks may have a long-lost brother because they both look so similar. After hearing Goku talk, Future Trunks realizes that it is actually Goku, and wonders how he is alive after dying at the Cell Games. Goku tells him that he was resurrected long after that. After Bulma asks him what happened, Future Trunks is relieved that he had made it to the past. Beerus and Whis realize that Future Trunks traveled in time after confirming with Trunks. Vegeta is proud that his son has done so, and the Pilaf Gang mistakenly believes that Future Trunks is Vegeta's secret illegitimate child. Beerus then asks Future Trunks if he is Trunks from the future. When Future Trunks confirms this, Trunks is shocked to hear this as are the Pilaf gang. Whis is shocked to learn that humans were capable of creating such advanced technology, but says that manipulating time is a serious crime. Vegeta asks Future Trunks who this new enemy is. Everyone is shocked to hear that the enemy is someone who looks a lot like Goku, and he has committed genocide on Earth and countless other planets to kill all mortals in the name of justice. Bulma is shocked to learn that her future counterpart was also killed by this new foe. Future Trunks says he spent a year fighting against Black and that he escaped to the past on a one-way trip and cannot go back. Vegeta is angry that Future Trunks ran instead of avenging the fallen, but Bulma yells at Vegeta about Future Trunks doing all he could considering everything he been through. Future Trunks is surprised to hear that the fuel needed for his Time Machine is the same fuel Bulma is currently developing, and that it would take a whole day to create enough to travel through time, claiming that it took nearly half of a year to fill up half a tank in the future. Goku insists that he and Vegeta are enough to stop this new threat. Future Trunks is still worried and says that even after become stronger, he was nowhere near Black's level. After hearing this, Goku asks Future Trunks to spar with him and the two go outside. Future Trunks transforms into a Super Saiyan 2, while Goku is surprised at his growth and does the same. While the two are fighting, Whis comments that although the two are both using the same transformation, Future Trunks just barely has the upper hand. Trunks is surprised at how strong his future counterpart is. Goku comments that Future Trunks is stronger than Gohan was during the fight with Cell , and Future Trunks says that he has been training every day since he returned to the future 10 years ago. Goku then shows Future Trunks the Super Saiyan 3 form. Albeit surprised, Future Trunks says he never settled for the power of the Super Saiyan 2 form, and further powers up. Future Trunks charges towards Goku, who suddenly dodges his sword attack and delivers a kick to the back of his head, causing him to power down. Beerus notes that Goku briefly used his Super Saiyan God form, while Vegeta, also noticing this, berates him. Goku apologizes to Future Trunks and is impressed at how much he has grown by himself, but Future Trunks says that he is still too weak against Goku Black. In the manga side story after the "Future" Trunks Saga, Gohan talks with Bulma after Trunks left and revealed that he was actually wanting to go into the future with them just to visit Future Bulma and see what it was like in the new future world they were going to. Bulma tells Gohan that he still can and that she actually made copies of the time machine and can make one for him to go and visit him. Main article: Universe Survival Saga Later in the manga, when the Tournament of Power was soon to begin, Goku voiced his dismay that Future Trunks had already left, hoping to have recruited him to Team Universe 7. Main article: Prison Planet Saga. Future Trunks ends up imprisoned by him on the Prison Planet but is broken out by Cooler where they soon after battle Bojack for possession of a Special Dragon Ball. Future Trunks later appeared to protect Future Mai from Cunber's ki blast and received his sword and clothes from her. When the Prison Planet is on the verge of destruction due to the battles involving Cunber, Future Trunks along with the others are teleported back to Beerus' Planet thanks to Xeno Goku's Instant Transmission where they each say their farewells. Main article: Universal Conflict Saga. Fuwa , the Supreme Kai from Universe 6 , appears on Beerus' Planet and tells Future Trunks and his father of an unknown enemy who has appeared in his Universe and began a war. Removing his sword from his sheathe and transforming into a Super Saiyan, he engages them in battle. The two artificial lifeforms enter into the wounds of Kale and Caulifla and possess them, after the Tuffleized Caulifla takes down Hit, she goes after Future Trunks, who asks his father what they should do. When Hit joins back into the battle, he and Future Trunks buy time for Vegeta who powers up a Final Flash which he prepares to fire at the Tuffleized Saiyans. They leave their host before the blast lands on them though it still hits Future Trunks and the others. He along with every one else is then pinned to the ground by a gravitational force belonging to Hearts. When Fused Zamasu appears, Future Trunks is surprised to see him still alive. Future Trunks and Vegeta then head to Universe 11 only for his father to be possessed by Oren shortly afterwards. Angry over his father being controlled, Future Trunks transforms into a Super Saiyan and charges Oren but is quickly blasted into the sea when he uses Smash Break on him. Future Trunks returns not long after to take a swipe at Fused Zamasu but misses. He is then taken down for a second time by Oren who prepares to kill him but thanks to the timely arrival of Goku he is saved. Trunks watches as Goku battles both Kamin and Oren. Trunks is told by his father to get back as he proceeds to watch him battle the merged warrior, amazed when his father evolves even further into Super Saiyan God SS Evolved. When Lagss attempts to finish off Goku, Trunks saves him and fights her in his place. After charging through her attack he fires a large energy blast at her. Lagss counters with an attack from below ground but Goku pushes him out of the way and takes the attack instead. Soon after he is pinned to the ground by Hearts along with everyone else but Shin teleports into the area and thanks to both he and Goku's Instant Transmission, they are able to get away safely. He asks him why after previously trying to exterminate all mortals before, would he now team up with one but Zamasu refuses to answer him. Shortly after, he and his father join Piccolo and Android 17 in their fight against the newly powered up Kamioren. Despite attacking all together they have no effect on their opponent and Trunks is caught up in Kamioren's energy blast and falls to the ground and out of his Super Saiyan form. After Kamioren is killed and Zamasu returns, Trunks once again asks why he would defend a mortal like Hearts and this time he answers by saying that after he kills Zeno he can execute his Zero Mortal Plan. Trunks joins in with the others in attacking him but is swiftly taken down in a single blow. After Hearts re-appears and kills Zamasu, Trunks attempts to face him along with the others but is taken down multiple times with ease. He then buys Goku and his father some time so that they can fuse into Gogeta. While watching Gogeta in action, Hearts summons a powerful God Meteor. After Gogeta, Jiren and Hit destroy it with a combined blast, Future Trunks blasts away at the remaining fragments while Gogeta charges ahead. Gogeta finally defeats Hearts and peace returns to Earth once more. My name is Trunks, and I came from 20 years in the future. You know what's funny about the future? You're nowhere to be seen. You're not in the future because you die right here and now, today! Future Trunks reluctantly goes with Krillin, Oolong , and Master Roshi to a swimsuit runway, although he ends up regretting the decision when they had to wait and the others attempt to sneak a peek in the dressing rooms. They meet up with Goku, Gohan, and Chi-Chi at the tower restaurant, explaining that they mixed up the dates of the show. Shortly after, Future Trunks and the various Z Fighters evacuate people after Android 14 and Android 15 bombed the area from underneath in order to assassinate Goku. Future Trunks later follows Goku to an Arctic area in order to defend Goku from the Androids, growing concerned when Goku begins to become exhausted from the fight. He has a difficult time fighting two against one and, when he tries to cut down Android 15, he is knocked away by Android Struggling in the fight, Future Trunks turns Super Saiyan, managing to slice Android 14 horizontally in half, although it has a delayed effect. He later attempts to save Vegeta when the latter is about to be slammed down into the ground by Super Android 13, only to be blasted away. He attempts a last ditch effort to cut down Super Android 13 as well as distract him while Goku powers the Spirit Bomb , but the Android managed to shatter his sword and knock him out. He was attending the hanami picnic, although he was shocked that anyone could think that Krillin's abysmal attempts at singing Karaoke was "good. When his attempts to tell Vegeta of his suspicions fell on deaf ears, he went over with

Paragus to New Planet Vegeta , namely to further attempt to convince his father to not do it. However, his attempt to do so fell on deaf ears. While scouting with Krillin and Gohan the city on New Planet Vegeta, they discover that the "city" was actually a bunch of ruins, and that Paragus was utilizing slave labor to create the palace, and stopped some of the guards from whipping a Shamoian slave. Afterwards, they feed the famished Shamoians and try to garner information. They learn that the Legendary Super Saiyan does indeed exist, and that he was responsible for the destruction of their home planet. This, along with Broly , Paragus' son, being exposed as being the Legendary Super Saiyan afterwards, forces Paragus to confess that it was all a set up. When Broly transformed into his Legendary Super Saiyan form, Future Trunks is amazed by his fearsome power but snaps back to reality when he attacks. Future Trunks then attempts to aid Goku and Gohan shortly after Broly went berserk. He quickly makes it to their destination and transforms into his Super Saiyan Second Grade form but even still they are no match for him. After Broly demonstrated his ruthless by destroying the slave's home planet, Future Trunks stated if they allowed Broly to live then he'd continue to destroy the whole universe. He and the others continued their battle but to no avail as Future Trunks was soon knocked into a wall, and later smashed into a railway by Broly. He was then given Senzu Beans by an arriving Piccolo, and attempted alongside Gohan to fire a double Masenko at Broly, only for him to brush off the attack and fall down the building unscathed. He is then knocked back by Broly alongside Gohan by a clothesline while Broly kicks Piccolo up into the air and blasts him away. Future Trunks then cheers for Vegeta when the latter gets out of his shock and fights Broly, only to immediately rush to his father's aid and be punched upside the head by Broly. He then transfers most of his ki energy to Goku along with the other Z Fighters in a last ditch effort to stop Broly which is successful. We may be fighting, but this is still a tournament, no killing allowed! Future Trunks participated in X. While talking to Chi-Chi, Bulma states that he came back to the past one last time to enter the World Tournament, He fights Tien in the semi-finals, after first promising to not hold back. Future Trunks advances to the finals of the tournament along with a sumo-wrestler named Doskoi , Gohan, and Krillin. In his Battle Zone , he engages in a fight with a mysterious alien named Kogu. Future Trunks is almost defeated by the swordsman, until he transforms into a Super Saiyan and quickly kills him with a punch to the gut. Future Trunks is then knocked out by a kick from a mysterious warrior, later revealed to be Bojack. He wakes up while Gohan is facing Bojack's henchmen and joins the fight after Piccolo was defeated. He is almost killed by Bujin and Bido , but is saved by his father. Future Trunks fights Zangya while Vegeta is being pummeled by a transformed Bojack, and is defeated by the latter soon after with a energy sphere to the stomach. After the battle, Future Trunks appears in the hospital with the other Z Fighters in the epilogue of the movie. Future Trunks is referenced several times in this movie. First he appears in flashback when he is shown killing Mecha Frieza, when Sorbet is about to revive Frieza. When Frieza is revived, he announces to his soldiers that he will not be satisfied until Goku and Future Trunks have both been killed, and Sorbet informs Frieza that they haven't been able to locate Future Trunks in all this time. Frieza even notes the absence of Future Trunks between the Z Fighters when the battle starts. While he was securing fuel canisters for his time machine, Future Trunks reads over Legend of Dragon Ball. He noticed that Black was able to sense his ki so he began to flee undercover. While cautiously running from Black, Future Trunks is found. He quickly attempted to flee again but Black managed to hit him with a Black Power Ball, destroying the extra fuel cells he had grabbed. While Future Trunks is on the ground, Black declared it was over for Future Trunks as he prepared to kill him. While hiding, Future Trunks thanked Future Mai for saving him but Future Mai questioned if he died, who would be able to save them, and Future Trunks then apologized. Main article: Dragon Ball Z: Shin Budokai Due to Janemba messing with the dimensions in the main timeline, Future Trunks finds a strange dimensional portal in his timeline when he is tracking down an energy signature similar to Gohan's Kamehameha. Future Trunks steps through and emerges in the main timeline once again. Before he realizes where he is, he sees Android 18, mistakes her for her future counterpart, and attacks her. Eventually, he realizes that he is in the present timeline and stops attacking Android After he makes sure she is not evil, she explains the current events to him. When Future Trunks heads to find Goku and Vegeta, he is confronted by Gotenks who believes he is a fake created by Janemba. The two begin fighting, but Future Trunks soon wonders why Gotenks attacked him and the fusion then comes undone. Future Trunks and the others head to look for Vegeta, who has been possessed, and they follow the largest evil energy signature they can find, but come across Frieza instead. Future Trunks fights Frieza, but Frieza reveals that he was merely distracting them so he could steal the Dragon Balls and the Dragon Radar , and he then escapes. Future Trunks eventually witnesses Goku's battle with the Janemba possessed Vegeta, and Vegeta being freed from Janemba's influence. Future Trunks cannot harm Janemba, but he holds him off long enough for the Spirit Bomb to be prepared. Goku throws the attack, but Janemba holds Future Trunks hostage. Trunks is one of the central characters in the Dragon Ball Universe and it wouldn't be wrong to say that he has brought some very interesting storylines to the table, perhaps even the best ones. Like every other Saiyan in Dragon Ball , both Future Trunks and Kid Trunks have their very own transformations that have evolved over the years. Not every transformation looks good on Vegeta's son but his looks are such that he can rock even the most basic transformation. Gotenks is the result of the Fusion Dance performed by Trunks and Goten, Gotenks, in his normal form, doesn't have very attractive hair, with the purple attached to the black. When he goes Super Saiyan, his look improves drastically. Trunks and Goten had to go through intense training to master the art of fusion and they almost won as Gotenks against the intimidating Majin Buu. After witnessing Vegeta lose easily at the hands of Cell's perfect form , Future Trunks elevated himself to Grade 3. Although the form in itself is quite strong, it isn't sustainable and doesn't look good on Trunks. Future Trunks first had to master the Super Saiyan form before trying to get himself to another level. They discovered a new form called Super Saiyan Second Grade. Future Trunks' muscles swell and his size increases drastically. The energy flow also becomes more apparent. This form is used by Trunks against Semi-Perfect Cell, who was trying to absorb Android 18 to activate his ultimate form. As soon as he lands in the present timeline, he uses it against Goku thinking he is Goku Black. Although Super Saiyan 2 brings about the usual sparkles around Trunks' body, his muscles remain similar. The lack of bulk that he had in Dragon Ball Z hurts him in this form. Future Trunks had to go through a very different process in order to become a Super Saiyan. He had to train with Future Gohan to unveil this power. His hair looks a bit different from the likes of Goku and Vegeta. They do not stand up, instead, only the ends seem to become pointy. The power increase is drastic and Future Trunks' face looks a bit sharpened. The first time Future Trunks managed this transformation, it looked like he was struggling to control the immense overflow of energy. But he learned quickly. So as any ordinary Saiyan , he broke his barrier once again, gaining an entirely new form â€" Super Saiyan Rage. The power increase was pretty drastic as well. He knew he needed more power and thus, using the Spirit Bomb technique, Trunks absorbed the energy of everything left alive on the planet. The form came to be known as Super Saiyan Spirit Bomb. The blue aura around Trunks was glowing and the best thing about the transformation was his sword. It became the Sword of Hope aka a sword covered in energy. Kid Trunks became a Super Saiyan at a very young age. The first time Trunks turns Super Saiyan on-screen is while training with Vegeta. The first time Trunks shows his new transformation to the world is when he fights Goten during the finale of the 25th Tenkaichi Budokai's Junior Division. While his looks are quite similar to Future Trunks, there is a visible distinction between their respective muscle densities. Although the power increase is quite drastic, Future Trunks' Super Saiyan 3 transformation is much stronger. That may be down to the age difference between the two. The long hair suited him like a charm and his short height gave off a very intimidating look. The sword tied to his back only makes it better. Super Saiyan 3 is something that would look good on any Saiyan. By Nishid Motwani Published Dec 02, Share Share Tweet Email 0. Related Topics Lists dragon ball. Both of these versions of Trunks have been integral throughout Dragon Ball. However, when there are so many transformations present, it can be easy to lose track of which are the best and which are the duds. One of the more unfortunate transformations that afflicts Trunks is one that he happens to have no control over. However, Buu would much rather play ball than fight, so he uses his Transfiguration Beam to turn Trunks: Xeno into a bouncy ball. Ball Trunks is rather helpless, but he can still communicate telepathically with people as well as bounce around on his own volition. Thankfully Buu turns him back to normal not long after. This is a very rare occurrence for Trunks, but when an increasing amount of Dragon Ball video games were released, more alternate histories and liberties were taken to give the titles something new and fresh. Trunks handles this bulky Super Saiyan stage much like how his future counterpart does and it fails to be effective in battle. Future Trunks becomes a big champion for the Ultra Super Saiyan stage, which offers a huge boost of power. However, the increase in muscle mass also results in a heavy loss in speed and mobility. Due to these huge downfalls, the transformation is basically phased out and deemed useless. However, even still, Future Trunks pulls out this skill when he returns in Dragon Ball Super and gets rightfully mocked for it. Vegeta wants Trunks to be the very best and, because of this, he treats him like an adult when it comes to his training. As a result, Trunks becomes a Super Saiyan at an incredibly young age and much earlier than his future counterpart. Future Trunks undergoes a much more torturous process to tap into his inner Super Saiyan. Future Trunks makes his Super Saiyan status well known and his infamous first appearance in Dragon Ball Z is highlighted by his transformation. However, the writers didn't want to bring on the next official stage of Super Saiyan quite yet. The advent of Super Saiyan Third Grade turned out to be a dud, so a compromise between that stage and a regular Super Saiyan was reached. This transformation requires a mastery of the form and pushes the powers to their limit without losing anything in the process. The evil, vengeful Tuffle, Baby, is on a mission to take down the Saiyans and become a king. Baby Trunks poses some problems for Goku, but Baby soon moves on to greener pastures. The original Dragon Ball Xenoverse features a conclusion that goes all out and sees the demon Demigra gain possession of Future Trunks and corrupt him. This Villainous Mode that Future Trunks undergoes is a lot like the Majin spell, but it is even stronger. For instance, Future Trunks has zero control over his body while Demigra possesses this hold over him. Future Trunks also experiences some truly interesting fusion transformations throughout the ancillary series in the Dragon Ball universe that also deserve some attention. The character was also popular enough to return in a mission in Dragon Ball Heroes. Another unusual fusion that stands out is the combination between Trunks: Xeno and Vegeta: Xeno, creating Vegenks: Xeno. The design is fantastic and this is the most recent interpretation of the character. Dragon Ball Fusions and Dragon Ball Heroes may provide plenty of strange, new fusion combinations to have fun with, but when it comes to Trunks fusions, everyone knows that Gotenks is the most popular, reliable transformation of the lot. Trunks and Goten have become an incredible fighting team and that beautifully translates into their fusion dance byproduct, Gotenks. The Dragon Ball Heroes series is notorious for not only introducing plenty of new fusions into the mix, but also allowing various versions of the same character to intermingle with one another. Clearly this character has many fans. A Super Saiyan 3 version of the Trunks from Dragon Ball GT may seem like a bit of a stretch considering how much the character has been slacking on his training, but a Super Saiyan 3 Future Trunks sounds about right. Apparently, Future Trunks can only utilize the transformation for ten seconds when he takes down heaps of Demon Realm and Shinigami Soldiers. Trunks has a wealth of resources at his disposal when in this Ultra Fusion state. Future Trunks goes to some incredible places over the course of Dragon Ball Super. Future Trunks goes through tons of huge transformations throughout the show and many of these have been translated to recent Dragon Ball video games with much care. Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2 tried to remain as current with Dragon Ball Super as p e36 service manual mr2 spyder engine removal 2001 f150 fuel filter

ossible and, thankfully, a number of DLC additions made that very possible. During the climax of the Fused Zamasu battle, he taunts Future Trunks by telling him that all of this damage is his fault for travelling through time. The coup de grace in the final showdown with Fused Zamasu comes from Future Trunks. As a result, the sword grows and becomes consumed with energy, which finally gives Trunks enough of an advantage to defeat Fused Zamasu. It looks like truly the apex of power and achieves what both Goku and Vegeta were unable of doing. What do you think? Let us know in the comments! Daniel Kurland is a freelance writer, comedian, and critic, who lives in the cultural mosaic that is Brooklyn, New York. The owls are not what they seem. By Daniel Kurland Published Dec 21, Share Share Tweet Email 0. Related Topics Lists dragon ball. Daniel Kurland Articles Published Daniel Kurland is a freelance writer, comedian, and critic, who lives in the cultural mosaic that is Brooklyn, New York.